

due Bounds and Limits, make that just Balance which is necessary for the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, and for the Protection and Prosperity of the People; what depends upon me, shall on my Part, be religiously kept and observed, and I make no Doubt of receiving the just Returns of Duty and Gratitude from them.

I must in a particular manner recommend it to you, and from your known Affection do expect that you will use your best Endeavours to heal the unhappy Divisions of the Nation, and to reconcile the Minds of all who truly and sincerely wish the Safety and Welfare of the Kingdom: It would be the greatest Satisfaction to me to see a perfect Harmony restored amongst them, that have one and the same principle at Heart, that there might be no Distinction but of such as mean the Support of our present happy Constitution in Church and State, and such as wish to subvert both; this is the only Distinction that ought to prevail in this Country, where the Interest of King and People is one and the same, and where they cannot subsist but by being so; if Religion, Liberty, and Property were never at any Time more fully enjoyed, without not only any Attempt but even the Shadow of a Design, to alter or invade them; let not these sacred Names be made use of as artful and plausible Pretences, to undermine the present Establishment, under which alone they can be safe.

I have nothing to wish, but that my People may not be misguided; I appeal to their own Consciences for my Conduct, and hope the Providence of God will direct them in the Choice of such Representatives, as are most fit to be trusted with the Care and Preservation of the Protestant Religion, the present Establishment, and all the Religious and Civil Rights of Great Britain.

The following Address of the ancient Corporation of Queenborough, in the County of Kent, has been presented to his Majesty by George Saunders, Esq; and Captain Richard Evans, their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Dunmore, Lord of the Bedchamber in waiting. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Jurats, Bailiffs and Burgesses, of the ancient Corporation of Queenborough, in the County of Kent.

May it please your Majesty,

WITH Hearts full of Duty and Gratitude we beg Leave to approach your sacred Person, with our humble Congratulations on the Marriage of the Princess Royal with his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange: An Event, which, as it creates an universal Joy throughout the whole Nation, so is it no where more sensibly felt than by your Majesty's ancient and loyal Corporation of Queenborough.

When we reflect on the great Blessings derived to us from the late glorious King William of immortal Memory, in the Preservation of our Liberties, we cannot but look upon an Alliance between a Prince of that House, conspicuous for his great and aimable Endowments, and a Princess peculiarly distinguished for every eminent Accomplishment, as a signal Instance of your Majesty's Tenderness for your People, as well as a sure and lasting Foundation, under God, of the Freedom and Welfare, not only of your Majesty's Dominions, but of the Protestant Interest of all Europe.

We have a grateful Sense of the Happiness flowing from the Wisdom and Steadiness of your Majesty's Councils and Administration, and of all the Blessings which a free Nation can hope to enjoy under a wise and gracious Prince.

May the Pleasure your Majesty and your Royal Consort always feel in doing Good to your People, be increased by a Length of Years; and may there never be wanting one of your Royal Progeny to sit on the Throne of these Realms, following your great Example, and your Royal Ancestors, in the Cause and Defence of Liberty, and in protecting us from Popery and arbitrary Power.

Given under our Corporation Seal, at the Guildhall at Queenborough, this 11th Day of April, 1734.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint Charles Fane, Esq; his Minister to the Great Duke of Tuscany.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint Benjamin Keene, Esq; his Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the Catholic King; and Abraham Castres, Esq; his Consul at Madrid; in the Room of Benjamin Keene, Esq;

His Majesty has been pleased to grant unto Sir Nicholas Williams, Barr. the Offices of Chamberlain of the Town and Borough of Brecon, and the Counties of Brecon, Radnor, and Glamorgan; and also of Steward and Keeper of the Courts Leet, View of Frank Pledge, and other Courts whatsoever of the Lordship of Nallain, Caio, Mabelview, Maberud, Manordiloe, Kethinock, and of the Forests of Glincothy and Pennant in the County of Carmarthen; and of Steward and Bailiff of the Manors, Lands, Grainges, and Possessions of the late dissolved Monastery of Talley,
