Whitehall, August 26.

THE following Addresses having been transmitted to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Addresses his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Governour, Council and Assembly of the Island of Barbados.

May it please your Majesty,

WE could not, tho' at this Distance from your Sacred Person, hear of so happy an Event as that of the Marriage of the Princess Royal to his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange, without being Ambitious of congratulating your Majesty upon it, and 'tis with the utmost Satisfaction we find our Fellow-Subjects, at Home, unanimously expressing their Joy on the same Occasion, as we think it discovers a Sense of the inestimable Benefits they have received, and late Posterity are like to derive from the Settlement of the Crown in your illustrious House, now nearly ally'd to one renown'd for those Virtues which were so conspicuous in your Majesty's heroick Ancestors, and have been so well exerted, in particular, during the present auspicious Reign.

If we might presume to judge of the principal Inducement to the concerting and bringing about this applauded Match, from the wise, just and steady Administration of our most gracious Sovereign, we should certainly impute it to an earnest Desire of strengthening the Protestant Interest, and supporting the common Rights of Mankind, by uniting with a Family that has for time immemorial, distinguish'd it self in so glorious a Cause, a Cause worthy of those superior Minds, which it has been observed so constantly to produce!

As we were undoubtedly obliged to your Majesty's great Predecessor, the immortal King William, for delivering us from Popery and Arbitrary Power, and thereby restoring our excellent Constitution, so it is to him likewise owing that the surest, perhaps the only, Means were used to carry it down inviolate to future Generations, of which we have at present the most delightful Prospect, and the strongest Assurance the Nature of Things will admit.

That your Majesty therefore may long live to be a bright Example to other Kings and Potentates in the World, and many Years continue a peculiar Blessing to your own People, always sensible of and truly grateful for it; that your illustrious Consort may also late remain the Glory of her Sex, and the Admiration of ours; and that there may be never wanting one of your Royal Line possess of the amiable Qualities and exalted Endowments of both, to inherit your Dominions, is and shall be the hearty Prayer of

Great Sir,

Your Majesty's most dutiful most loyal, and most faithful Servants and Subjects.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Grand Jury, at the Court of Grand Sessions held for the Body of the Island of Barbados, at the Town Hall in St. Michael's Town, on the 11th, 12th, 13th, and 14th Days of June, 1734.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Grand Jury for the Body of this Island, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Throne, to felicitate your Majesty on the auspicious Marriage of her Royal Highness the Princess Royal.

Your Majesty has by all your Actions shewn, that your Majesty's Aims and Cares tend all to make your People happy, and to secure their Happiness. But of this, we trust, no greater or more signal Instance can be given, than your Majesty's bestowing the eldest Daughter of Great Britain on a Prince of the truly great and illustrious House of Orange. A House justly famed for a long Succession of Heroes, whose Glory it has been to save the weak from the proud Oppressor, to curb and repress the Sons of Violence, to set Bounds to the lawless Ambition of unjust Kings, and to defend, vindicate, and assert the Rights of injured Nations.

How great and glorious a Race may your Majesty's Subjects justly hope for from this most happy Alliance! It fills our Hearts with Joy, and we want Words to express the tender and grateful Sentiments we feel of your Majesty's great Goodness to us, in forming and perfecting an Alliance so apparently tending to strengthen and support our present happy Constitution, and the Interest of our holy Religion.

Among the many Blessings we enjoy thro' your Majesty's great Grace and Favour to us, we esteem it none of the least, that your Majesty has been pleased to set over us a most worthy Governor, who has upon all Occasions shewn the greatest Regard to the Good of this Colony, and used and continues to use his best Endeavours to promote its true Interest, and to restore it to the flourishing Condition which it once enjoyed, and which we hope it will enjoy again, when the Difficulties and Disadvantages in Trade that this your Majesty's ancient Colony now lies under shall be fairly represented to your Majesty, (as we doubt not they will be by your Majesty's Governor) and your Majesty's other more weighty and arduous Affairs will allow Time for your Majesty's Consideration of them.

That your Majesty may long reign over us in Health, Wealth, and Prosperity; and that there may never be wanting one of your Majesty's august House to fill the British Throne, are the sincere and most ardent Wishes of,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Stockholm, Aug. 14. As the Diet has been this Day assembled three Months, which is looked upon to be a sort of fix'd Time, tho' the Sessions have usually exceeded it, People began to talk of its Separation, and the Clergy proposed to the Nobility this Morning to end it at Michaelmas; after long Debate the Question was put, and carried in the Affirmative by a great Majority. Count Herberstein, the Imperial Minister, has had his Audience of their Swedish Majesties, which he has notified to all the Foreign Ministers. On Monday last M. Meynertshagen, the Prussian Minister, died here of a Fever.

Hague, Sept. 3, N. S. The King of Prussia, whose Journey into Holland had been hitherto doubtful, sets out To-morrow from Wesel, according to the last Advices from thence, on his Return to Berlin. The Assembly of the States of Holland is fixed for the 15th Instant. By the last Letters from the Imperial Army of the 28th past, Prince Eugene had passed the Neckar. The French Army was then at Raftadt, all the separate Bodies having joined.

Admiralty Office, July 27, 1734.

His Majesty having been graciously pleased by his Warrant under his Royal Sign Manual, dated the 10th of June, 1733, to establish certain Rules and Orders for the better Government of the Charity for Relief of poor Widows of Commission and Warrant Officers of the Royal Navy; These are to give Notice to all such Widows as aforesaid, whose Husbands died on or since the 30th of August, 1732, that Copies of the said Rules and Orders are lodged with the Commissioners of his Majesty's Navy at Chatham, Portsmouth, and Plymouth, and also with the Clerks of the Cheque at Deptford and Woolwich, and with the Naval Officers at Harwich, Deal, and Kinsale; where they may be informed of all Particulars which entitle such Widows to the Benefit of the said Charity, and receive the proper Certificates for that Purpose; But such Widows as live at too great Distance from the Places above-mentioned, may apply by Letter to Thomas Corbett, Esq; at this Office, who will send them all necessary Information. And there being Ground to hope, that the Governors of the said Charity may be impowered to distribute some Relief to the Widows of such Sea Officers who died before the 30th of August, 1732, provided their Circumstances come within the Rules thereof; these are to give Notice to all such Widows to repair or send to the above-named Places, that they may be provided with the proper Certificates accordingly. And the Court of Assistants do hereby give Notice, that they shall meet at this Office on Tuesday the Tenth of September, at Eight of the Clock in the Morning, to receive and adjust the Claims of all such Widows as shall be qualified according to the said Rules and Orders.
