

ly shewn their just Sense of the Blessings they enjoy under his Majesty's auspicious Reign, and your Grace's honourable and frugal Administration.

Our Remembrance of your Grace's past Conduct has created in us an entire Confidence of your Attention to our Interest for the future; and if it is a peculiar Honour to a chief Governour, that the Esteem of the People has increased in Proportion to their Experience of him, it is no small one to them, that they have added to the Ease of his Government through every Period of his Administration.

In a full Persuasion that the Aids we have granted will continue to be employed for the publick Good, and managed with your usual Prudence, we humbly present to your Grace these two Bills for the Royal Assent.
