

Whitehall, April 1, 1737.

Whereas about Six Months ago, a Paper was affixed to the House of Mr. Ridge, Keeper of the Forrest in the Isle of Wight, threatening, That if he should take away any Gun, or hurt any Man for killing Deer out of their own Grounds or Corn, his Horse would be shot under him, and his Habitation laid low about his Ears, and to remember the Walton Blacks, for there would rise Forty Men in Arms against him in a little time; And whereas several Deer have since been killed and destroyed in the said Forrest, and on Sunday the 6th of February last, about Twelve o' Clock at Nights, a Gun loaded with Slugs was discharged in as one of the Chamber Windows of the Dwelling House of the said Mr. Ridge, in which Chamber he was at that Time a Bed, with an Intent, as there is Reason to believe, to kill him, for that the Slugs went through the Bed Curtains, and lodged in the Chimney-piece of the said Chamber: His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Person or Persons concerned in so heinous a Crime, is pleased to promise his most gracious Pardon to any one of them, who shall discover his Accomplice or Accomplices, so as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. And as a further Encouragement, His Majesty is also pleased to promise a Reward of Fifty Pounds to any one of them, or to any other Person or Persons, who shall make such Discovery as aforesaid, to be paid upon the Conviction of the Offender or Offenders.
