Vienna, June 25.

BY Letters of the 18th Instant from Temeswaer we have Advice of Count Konigsegg's Arrival there, and that the Grand Duke and his Brother were expected the Day following; but Count Wallis, with the Army which had passed the Danube, would not, it was thought, be up at Caransebes to join Count Neuperg's Detachment before the 21st or 22d, when the whole Army was to march on; and we expect to hear soon of some important Events.

Berlin, July 1. N. S. On Sunday Morning last, as the Queen of Prussia was at Divine Service, three Expresses came one after another from Potsdam, requiring her Majesty to repair immediately thither; and about Three in the Afternoon M. Ellard, the King of Prussia's First Physician, received the like Order, by another Express. Yesterday we heard that his Prussian Majesty's Indisposition proved to be the Gout in his Hand, and that even the Pain was already very much diminished. This Indisposition, how slight soever it be, not permitting his Prussian Majesty to begin his Journey to Cleves to Day, as he did design, the Carriages have been dismissed for a second Time, and order'd to be ready against Saturday next.

Berlin, July 5, N. S. His Prussian Majesty's Journey is now fixed again for Tuesday next, the 8th Instant. All the Carriages and Post Horses are already ordered and laid, and in all Appearance his Prussian Majesty will certainly set out that Day. His first Design was to go directly to Wezel, but now he will take the Rout by Brunswick, where he will stay two Days with the Duke his Son in Law. The principal Persons of his Prussian Majesty's Retinue are, the Prince Royal and Prince William his Sons, the Prince of Anhalt Dessau and Prince Maurice his Son, the Duke of Holstein, the Generals Bodenbroke and Waldo, and several other Officers of Note; but they all go by Halberstadt, and are only to join his Prussian Majesty at Minden.

Whitehall, June 26, 1738.

Where is on the 6th of May last, about Nine of the Clock in the Evening, the Tyle-House of Thomas Colebrooke, on Clapham Common in the County of Sussex, was, as there is great Reason to apprehend, wilfully and maliciously set on Fire, and burnt down, whereby several Thousands of Tyles were spoiled, to his great Damage and Prejudice: His Majesty for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Person or Persons concerned in so heinous a Crime, is pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any of them who shall discover his Accomplice or Accomplices, so as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

And as a farther Encouragement for the Discovery of such Offender or Offenders, Thomas Colebrooke does hereby promise to pay the Sum of Ten Pounds to any one of the said Offenders who shall discover his Accomplice or Accomplices, so as he or they be apprehended and convicted as aforesaid.

Whitehall, May 20, 1738.

It having been represented to His Majesty, That a most notorious and wicked Practice has of late Years prevailed, and does now particularly prevail, to a very high Degree, in His Majesty's Forest, called New Forest, in the County of Southampton, for Persons unknown, not only to cut down Trees, and Part of Trees, fit for the Service of His Majesty's Navy, but likewise to steal and take away from the said Forest, Timber, after it has been squared into proper Lengths for that Service; and it being apprehended, that the Persons guilty of the said Theft are chiefly encouraged thereto by Persons in the Neighbourhood, who receive the same from them: His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the said Offenders, is pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one or more of them, who shall discover his or their Accomplice or Accomplices, so as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. And as a farther Encouragement thereto, His Majesty is pleased to promise a Reward of Twenty Pounds to any Person or Persons, who shall discover any Person or Persons, that have stolen, or may hereafter steal, any Timber from the said Forest, as aforesaid, or that have received, or may hereafter receive, any such Timber, knowing the same to be stolen, so that the said Offender or Offenders may be apprehended and convicted thereof; the said Reward to be paid by the Surveyor General of his Majesty's Woods for the Time being, on the Conviction of any of the said Offenders.
