Petersbourg, August 8.

LAST Saturday Night Felt Marshal Munich's Adjutant General arrived at Peterhoff with Letters dated the 24th of July, by which his Excellency informs her Majesty, that the Turkish Army was on the other Side of the River Dniester, so that they did not seem willing to hazard a Battle, at least on this Side the River, as he expected they would. The Day before the Courier set out, above 15000 Tartars and Turkish Horse had attacked the Felt Marshal's Advance Guard, but were repulsed with great Loss.

From the Camp of the Imperialists at Semendria, Aug. 22. Last Night, to the great Surprise of the Army, an Officer arrived from Orlova with an Account of the Garrison having on the 16th capitulated with the Turks to surrender the Town on the 17th. The Turks had 150 Cannon mounted, with which they kept a continual Fire till the 13th, when they summon'd the Town to surrender without having made a Breach of any Consequence; but the Garrison being reduced to 500 (the Detachment of 200 from Belgrade which got into Orlova the 10th, being included in that Number) they yielded; and marched out on the 17th, and were escorted to Vivalanka: 1300 Men of the Garrison had died of the Scurvy since the 15th of July; and there is Reason to believe the Plague also was rise in the Place.

Vienna, Aug. 30, N. S. Yesterday Morning came Advice of the Surrender of Orlova to the Turks. The Grand Duke of Tuscany is not yet set out from hence for the Army.
