Warsaw, September 19.

THe 11 instant their Majesties arrived in very good health at Casimire, from whence the King sent a Gentleman to General Sobietzki, to know of him the best and surest way for his Majesty to come to the Camp, which is at Glinioni near Leopol, on the Frontiers of Podolia, where there have already Rendezvoused 20000 Horse besides Dragoons, and in the mean time the Infantry is on its march from all parts of the Kingdom thither; The Troops of Lithuania, being in all 12000 Men, were according to our last advice at Lochadowa, so that they may be suddainly expected at the place of Rendezvous, and together with the Forces of this Crown, make up a very considerable Army; and now all people begin to think, that this Government intends indeed to declare War against the Turks, in which, besides the Justice of it, we promise our selves the greater success, for that our Letters from the Ukraine tell us, that Caminiec and the other Conquests of the Turks, are very ill provided, and unable to make any great resistance, in case of a vigorous Attack, and at the same time the Moscovites promise us great assistance.

Rome Sept. 16. The Moscovian Envoye is still here, there being some difference between him and this Court concerning the Titles to be given by his Holiness to the Czar his Master; In the mean time the said Envoye is Treated with all possible Civility and Respect; On Sunday night last he was entertained by Cardinal d'Estrees, at a very magnificent Supper, the several Foreign Ambassadors, and other Persons of Principal quality being present at it. Monday last was held a Consistory, where it was resolved, That the Archbishop of Gnesne in Poland, who being lately received into that See, is obliged upon his first entrance to pay 13000 Crowns to this Court, should pay the said sum into the Treasury of his Majesty of Poland, to be employed in the War against the Turks: Cardinal Gastaldi hath given 20000 Crowns for his own particular, and the rest of the Cardinals are likewise about raising several sums of Money, to be disposed of by the King of Poland, for the security of that Kingdom. The Cardinal of Hesse lies extreme ill, insomuch that his recovery is despaired of.

Hamburg, Sept. 24. This day we have Letters from Pomerania which tell us, That several Troops are arrived from Sweden at Anklam and other places thereabouts, and that they expect 6000 Men more, as well Horse as Foot, to be formed into an Army under the Command of General Wrangel; The Swedes seem very much to disapprove the proceeding of the Emperor, as to the march of his Forces, as being against the Treaty of Munster, and particularly, against that Article of the Treaty, which forbids the assisting the Enemies of the Crown of France. From Copenhagen we have advice, That their Majesties of Sweden before their departure out of the Isle of Schonow, had sent several persons of quality to return the Compliments which were sent them by the King and Queen of Denmark upon their arrival there; and that Count Windisgratz was arrived there in quality of Envoye Extraordinary from the Emperor.

Madrid, Sept. 27. From Cadix they write, that Monsieur d'Almeras was sailed with his Squadron of men of War for Argiers, to rectifie some misunderstandings lately arisen between the French and those Corsairs; That they had there certain advice from Tanger of the death of Gaylan, who was slain the third instant by some of his own people, who revolted to the King Muley Ismael, he being now Master of all the Lower Fez. His Catholick Majesty is in perfect Health, and the Queen Regent very well recovered of her late indisposition, to the great satisfaction of this Court. We talk much of the settlement of the Kings Household the next Month.

Vienna, Sept. 24. The 19 instant the Emperor arrived here from Prague in Bohemia; and the same day the Sieur de Gremonville the French Minister, parted hence on his way home; The 30 of this month the Emperor begins his journey for Graz, to consummate there his Marriage with the Archduchess of Inspruck. Our Letters from Hungary continue to tell us of the Depredations that are daily committed there by the Rebels, though that the Inhabitants live very unsafe; we cannot but think that the Turkish Bassas on the Frontiers, give underhand assistance to the Rebels, in supplying them with considerable sums of Money, for otherwise they could not be able to subsist as they do.

Vienna, Sept. 26. His Imperial Majesty is now here, and preparations are making for his journey to Graz in Stiria, in order to his consummating there his Marriage with the Archduchess of Inspruck. The 19 instant the Sieur Gremonville the French Minister, left this Court, having, as is said, had intimation so to do. The 22 instant General Caps arrived here from Hungary, and hath given his Imperial Majesty an account of the posture he left things in there; it is said that he is to continue here, and that General Spanhaw is to go in his room to Command the Imperial Troops in those parts. We give out here with much confidence that the Swedes are about joining 6000 Men with the Imperial Army now on the Main, when on the contrary the Crown highly complains of the proceeding of this Court, and declares that it is contrary to the Treaty of Munster, of which they are Guaranties.

Cologne, Octob. 10. Letters of the fourth instant from the French Camp at Winken, arrived this morning by Express, say, that the Bishop of Wurtsburgh having given a Bridge to the Imperialists, they thereby happened to surprize a party of 30 French Horse, conveying some Provisions to the Army, which was supposed by Monsieur de Turenne to have been a sufficient Guard within the Territories of that Bishop, who had faithfully promised a Neutrality, and this is what hath occasioned the noise of the retreat of the French of which the German Princes are so full. For this, obliging Monsieur de Turenne to keep an eye on Wurtsburg, he is marched again towards the Tauber; in which march a party of French fell in with a like party of Imperialists, who were convoying the Grand Provost, of which they took 60 prisoners, the Provost narrowly escaping. That upon advice of their march, the Imperialists were retreating towards Gemund and Lor in Swabia; and in the mean time, that the French Army was to be reinforced with 13 Bataillons of Infantry, and 20 Squadrons of Horse, who were hourly expected to arrive in the Camp. The same Letters say, that Count Monteculi had made two Bridges over the Main, and passed his whole Army, with intention to Attack A. Schaffembourg; and so to oblige Monseigneur de Turanne to decamp with his Army to succor it; but that upon advice of the march of the Enemy, he immediately ordered 2000 Horse, under the Command of Monseigneur de Guiche, to go and reinforce it, he continuing encamped as is above said. We have daily Tels and less hopes of the Peace, and now it is said that the Dutch Ambassadors will be recalled home, by a strange insatiation; they that most stand in need of Peace, desiring it least.

Amsterdam, Octob. 10. The Prince of Orange being returned from Antwerp, to the Leger at Rosenhuel, we now expect in consequence of the resolutions taken with the Count de Montreuy, to hear of his being broke up with his Army, and on his march, to joyn the Spanish Troops in Brabant, and thence to proceed according to the design they have in hand; In the mean time we are told of a farther Treaty concluded between this State and the Crown of Spain, for the continuance of the War; whether it be really so, or whether this news is only spread abroad to encourage the people, we cannot certainly decide, but all think it true, and that the Crown of Spain will indeed break with France, yet the soberer sort of people here, are much troubled to see our Governors so insensible of the miseries this War has brought upon us, as still to desire the continuance of it; though it be to the utter ruin and impoverishment of these Countreys. And at the same time we cannot but wonder at the great advance which is made at Collogne by the English and French Ambassadors, towards the conclusion of the Treaty, and must acknowledge that the two Kings do thereby sufficiently witness to the world their desire to give a stop to the farther effusion of Christian Blood; and that as these States were the authors of the War; so they will conclude by their refusing to hearken to those just and reasonable terms which are offered them, of which, it is said, the Crown of Sweden is so well satisfied, that they have ordered their Forces to march to joyn with the French, to endeavor that way to make their Mediation with the Dutch the more effectual.

Adria, Octob. 10. The States of Holland are parted for eight days, the several Deputies being gone home to consult their respective Principals, having before their recess, resolved, that the Count de Dhuyd, who dyed here the fifth instant, of the wounds he received in the Siege of Masstricht, shall be Enterr'd with all Funerall Pomp; at the charge of the State; here are arriv'd several Deputies from the States of Zeland, who it seems are very much dissatisfied with those of this Province, concerning the intention they seem to have here, to prohibit again the Importation of all French Wines into these Provinces. The eighth instant the Quarter Master-General of the Army arriv'd here, in order to the pressing a great many Boats, for the transporting the Infantry towards Brabant; Yesterday the Entry of the Crown of Denmark had a Conference which lasted several hours; with the Deputies of the States, though we cannot particularly learn what pass'd between them. This day we are assur'd, that our Army will break up from Rosenhuel, but of their intended march can only say, that there is much talk that it will be towards the Electorate of Cologne.

Brussels, Oct. 10. We have not anything fresh from from Germany; We told you in our last, that part of the Imperial Army was pass'd the Main at Lhor, what their design is we cannot discover, farther, than that they still move with a great deal of caution, and without giving the French any opportunity to fight them. Monseigneur de Turennes Army will be in a day or two reinforced with several thousand Men, as well Horse as Foot. The most Christian King is gone from Nancy, and as is said, is gone for Philipville.

Ostend, Octob. 11. Passengers arriv'd from Zealand tell us, that they are extraordinary busy there about fitting out their Capers, but that the late bad weather has very much hindred them, and done great mischief to those Ships they had abroad; one of good force was cast away, and all the rest were forced to cut down their Masts, and throw aboard their Guns to save themselves. From Antwerp we hear, that the Prince of Orange came thither the 7 instant in the evening, and parted again the next day in the afternoon for his Camp at Rosenhuel; This interview creates a general belief in People, that we are going to enter into a War with the Crown of France, and that joynt resolutions have been taken in these Conferences for the managing it; in the mean time the generality of the People love much rather to talk of a War with France, then to see themselves actually engag'd in it, as appears by the answer which the Magistrates of Antwerp some days since made to the Count de Montreuy, upon his desiring them to make a Bridge over the Scheide, for the conveniency of passing his Troops on all occasions; which they plainly refused; or if his Excellency saw better then they the conveniency of it, that he should cause it to be made at the Kings cost. The Prince of Conde lies still with his Troops at Audenarde, having an eye upon our motions; and we are told, that he hath lately sent to the Count de Montreuy, to represent to him, that his most Christian Majesty will be at length forced to look upon the several Infractions made by this Government, of the Treaties between the two Crowns, as an open rupture.

Whitby, Octob. 4. The Dutch Capers begin to be very busy on these Coasts, though without doing us any considerable damage, for all the purchase they meet with, is only now and then some stragling Vessels, who quitting the Company of others, and the Convoy that is provided for them, fall into their hands; as we have now advic'd of a Ketch belonging to this place, taken two days since; she sails extraordinarily well, and will it is thought, be employ'd by the Dutch for a Caper. The first instant a Dutch Caper came in with the Tide within shot of our Guns, whereupon the Sprig Fregat immediately loosed, and went out in Chase of her, above 20 of our Towns-men, (who are glad of any occasion, to show their readyness to serve his Majesty) going on Board the Fregat as Volunteers; They chased the Caper till night, when they lost her.

Portsmouth, Octob. 7. On Saturday last the French Squadron of men of War, under the Command of the Count d'Estrees sail'd from Spithead on their way home; but were forced back again by contrary winds and ride now at Ankor as far as we can discover them beyond St. Helens Point.
