

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday March 6. to Saturday March 10. 1743.

St. James's, March 10.

THE following Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, has been presented to his Majesty by the Reverend John Guyse, D. D. attended by several of his Brethren, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about the Cities of London and Westminster.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE humbly beg Leave, on this important Occasion, to renew the solemn Assurances we lately gave your Majesty, of our unalterable Attachment to your sacred Person and Government.

It is no great Surprise to us, that an insolent and perfidious Nation, in Revenge for the Repulse they have met with from your Majesty's Arms Abroad, should form the Design of invading you at Home, in Favour of an outlaw'd Popish Pretender. But that any of those, who live under your Majesty's just and mild Government, should be so intimidated and abandoned as to give them any Encouragement, raises our Indignation and Astonishment.

Your Majesty's known Wisdom and Valour; the noble Ardour and Firmness of both your Houses of Parliament; the chearful Concurrence of your faithful Subjects of all Ranks and Orders, in declaring their inviolable Fidelity to your Majesty; the try'd Courage of your Forces, and your Majesty's reasonable Call on your People to Fast and Pray, as they justly encourage our Hopes of your long and prosperous Reign, so they may well damp all Expectations of Success in the most inveterate and sanguine of your Enemies.

Our Detestation of Popery, and of that Arbitrary Power which naturally attend it, were it ever to be introduced among us; and our Apprehensions of Danger from both, are not at all abated, by any such pretended Coalition of Parties, as has left among us no Enemies to your Majesty and our happy Constitution; We therefore think it our Duty and Interest to do our utmost (even at the Hazard of our All in this World) for the Safety of your Royal Person and Government, with which our Civil and Religious Rights are inseparably connected.

And we crave Leave to assure your Majesty, that while we endeavour to cultivate such Sentiments in those under our Care, and to warm their Breasts with Zeal for your Majesty, and Affection to your illustrious Family; we will not fail to offer up our most ardent Prayers to God, that he would direct your Majesty's Councils, prosper your Arms, and defeat the Designs of all your Enemies, in so remarkable a Manner, as may convince the whole World, that your sacred Person, your Royal Family, and our dear Country, are the Objects of the special Favour and constant Protection of Divine Providence.

To which Address his Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer.

I Thank you for this Address, and for this fresh Mark of your Duty and Affection to my Person and Government. You may always depend upon the Continuance of my Protection.

And they all had the Honour to kiss his Majesty's Hand.

The following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens and Commonalty of the City of Norwich, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Hon. Horatio Walpole and Thomas Vere, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, who were introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord Viscount Harcourt: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens