

ers, and Hussars, who landed lately at Fano, were on their March for the same Army. On the 9th a Battalion of Piedmont from Modena, together with other Troops and Gunners from Placentia, began their March, by Order of the King of Sardinia, to the Camp at Cuneo, and Detachments out of the Militia were ordered to replace them.

Brussels, July 2. The French King went to Dunkirk on the 28th past, where it is thought he will stay to see the Event of the Siege of Furnes. All our Intelligence here agrees, that the Duke d'Harcourt is marched with his Corps of Troops towards Lille, and that the French have raised a Fort between Lille and Tournay, from whence it seems probable that they will invest the latter, after they have made themselves Masters of Furnes. The Troops from England are arrived at Ostend, where General Chanclos is active in making all necessary Preparations against a Siege. We hear that the great Inundation is at last made at Nieupoit, which may incommode the French before Furnes, and oblige them to make new Dispositions and change their Attacks.

Hambourg, July 3, N. S. His Majesty's Ship the Fox, and the Hind Sloop, with 57 Sail under their Convoy, put to Sea the 1st Instant, N. S. about Noon, the Wind being then favourable, after having detained the Ships 15 Days in the River from the Time first appointed for them to be at the Rendezvous.

Hague, July 3, N. S. It was last Wednesday resolved by the States General, that the Body of Troops now under the Command of General Ginkel, and amounting to about 11 or 12000 Men, should march immediately to join and reinforce the combined Army in Flanders, and the particular Troops of which that Body is composed, are to set forward without assembling or waiting for each other. As most of those Regiments are already advanced to Breda, and the neighbouring Towns, they will not have above six or eight Days March to the Army.

Dover, June 26. This Morning arrived one of the Packet Boats from Ostend, with the Flanders Mail of Sunday last, the Mate whereof Reports, that he left Ostend at Seven o'Clock on Sunday Night, at which Time the French Batteries first began to fire very furiously upon Furnes for about an Hour, when the firing ceased, which was occasioned, as he suppos'd, by a Tempest of Wind and Rain which the said Mate saw fall about Furnes. By a Deserter who left the French Army on Friday last, we hear, that great Part of their Troops were incamped between Furnes and Nieupoit.

Dover, June 27. The Mate of the Packet Boat which came last Night from Calais, says, That the French King came from St. Omer to Calais on Saturday last, and staid there till Monday Afternoon, and then went for Boulogne, and returned last Night to Calais, and goes this Day for Dunkirk.
