Westminster, October 17.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in his Royal Robes, seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Charles Dalton, Gentleman-Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from his Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE open and unnatural Rebellion, which has broke out, and is still continuing in Scotland, has obliged me to call you together sooner than I intended; and I shall say nothing before you at present, but what immediately relates to our Security at Home, reserving all other Considerations to a farther Opportunity. So wicked and daring an Attempt, in Favour of a popish Pretender to my Crown, headed by his Eldest Son, carried on by Numbers of traitorous and desperate Persons within the Kingdom, and encouraged by my Enemies Abroad, requires the immediate Advice, and Assistance of my Parliament to suppress and extinguish it. The Duty and Affection for me and my Government, and the vigilant and zealous Care for the Safety of the Nation, which have with so much Unanimity been shewn by my faithful Subjects, give me the firmest Assurance, that you are met together resolved to act with a Spirit becoming a Time of Common Danger, and with such Vigour, as will end in the Confusion of all those, who have engaged in, or fomented this Rebellion.

I have, throughout the whole Course of my Reign, made the Laws of the Land the Rule of my Government, and the Preservation of the Constitution in Church and State, and the Rights of my People, the main End and Aim of all my Actions. It is therefore the more astonishing, that any of my Protestant Subjects, who have known and enjoy'd the Benefits resulting from thence, and have heard of the imminent Dangers these Kingdoms were wonderfully delivered from, by the happy Revolution, should by any Arts and Management be deluded into Measures, that must, at once, destroy their Religion and Liberties, introduce Popery and arbitrary Power, and subject them to a foreign Yoke.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I rely on your Affection to me, and your Care and Concern for our common Safety, to grant me such a Supply, as may enable me entirely to extinguish this Rebellion, effectually to discourage any foreign Power from assisting the Rebels, and to restore the Peace of the Kingdom; for which Purpose I will order the proper Estimates to be laid before you. Amongst the many ill Consequences of this wicked Attempt, the extraordinary Burthen, which it must bring upon my faithful Subjects, very sensibly affects me. But let those answer for it, whose Treason has occasioned it, and my People be convinced what they owe to those Disturbers of our Peace, who are endeavouring to make this Kingdom a Scene of Blood and Confusion.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The many evident Proofs this Parliament has given of their Duty, Fidelity, and Affection to me, and of their steady Adherence to the present happy Establishment, and the true Interest of their Country, make me repose myself entirely on the Zeal and Vigour of your Proceedings and Resolutions. I am confident you will act like Men, who consider that every Thing dear and valuable to them is attacked; and I question not, but, by the Blessing of God, we shall, in a short Time, see this Rebellion end, not only in restoring the Tranquillity of my Government, but in procuring greater Strength to that excellent Constitution, which it was design'd to subvert. The Maxims of this Constitution shall ever be the Rules of my Conduct. The Interest of me, and my People, is always the same, and inseparable. In this common Interest let us unite; and all those, who shall heartily and vigorously exert themselves in this just and national Cause, may always depend upon my Protection and Favour.

Dublin, October 10.

On Tuesday last the 8th Instant, the Parliament having met according to the Prorogation, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the House of Peers; and being seated on the Throne with the usual Ceremony, his Excellency sent for the Commons, and made a Speech a Speech to both Houses, who unanimously resolved upon humble and dutiful Addresses to his Majesty, which were this Day presented to his Excellency.

His Excellency Philip Earl of Chesterfield, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland, his Speech to both Houses of Parliament, at Dublin; on Tuesday the 8th Day of October 1745.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I Am honour'd with the King's Commands to meet you here in Parliament, and to co-operate with you in whatever may tend to establish or promote the true Interest of this Kingdom.

His Majesty's tender Concern for all his Subjects, and your Zeal and Duty for him, have mutually been too long experienced for me now to represent the one, or recommend the other.

Your own Reflections will best suggest to you the Advantages you have enjoyed under a Succession of Protestant Princes, by Nature inclined, and by legal Authority enabled to preserve and protect you; as your own History, and even the Experience of some still alive among you, will best paint the Miseries and Calamities of a People scourged rather than governed by blind Zeal and lawless Power.

These Considerations must necessarily excite your highest Indignation at the Attempt now carrying on in Scotland to disturb his Majesty's Government, by a Pretender to his Crown; one nursed up in Civil and Religious Error; formed to Persecution and Oppression, in the Seat of Superstition and Tyranny; whose groundless Claim is as contrary to the natural Rights of Mankind, as to the particular Laws and Constitution of these Kingdoms; whose only Hopes of Support are placed in the Enemies of the Liberties of Europe in general; and whose Success would consequently destroy your Liberty, your Property, and your Religion. But this Success is little to be feared, his Majesty's Subjects giving daily and distinguished Proofs of their Zeal for the Support of his Government, and the Defence of his Person; and a considerable Number of national Troops, together with Six thousand Dutch, cheerfully furnished to his Majesty by his good Allies the States General, being now upon their March to Scotland; a Force more than sufficient to check the Progress, and chastise the Insolence of a rebellious and undisciplined Multitude.

The Measures that have hitherto been taken to prevent the Growth of Popery, have, I hope, had some, and will still have a greater Effect; however, I leave it to your Consideration, whether nothing farther can be done, either by new Laws, or by the more effectual Execution of those in Being, to secure this Nation against the great Number of Papists, whose speculative Errors would only deserve Pity, if their pernicious Influence upon Civil Society did not both require and authorize Restraint.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have order'd the proper Officers to lay before you the several Accounts and Estimates, and I have the Pleasure of acquainting you, that I have nothing to ask, but the usual and necessary Supplies for the Support of the Establishment.

The King having thought it necessary at this Time to send for two Battalions more from hence, has ordered, that immediately upon their Landing in England, they shall be put upon the British Establishment; and that the Supplemental Increase of regular Forces for your Defence here, shall be made in the least expensive Manner, by additional Companies only; after which Augmentation, the Number of Troops will still be within the usual military Establishment.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is with the greatest Satisfaction that I hear of the present flourishing State of your Linen Manufacture, and I most earnestly recommend to you the Care and Improvement of so valuable a Branch of your Trade: Let not its Prosperity produce Negligence, and let it never be supposed to be brought to its utmost Extent or Perfection. Trade has always been the best Support of all Nations, and the principal Care of the Wisest.

I persuade myself, that the Business of this Session will be carried on with that Temper and Unanimity, which a true and unbiassed Regard for the Publick naturally produces, and which the present State of Affairs more particularly demands. For my own Part, I make you no Professions; you will, you ought to judge of me only by my Actions.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your safe Return to your British Dominions; and to present our most hearty Thanks for the Continuance of your paternal Care, to establish and promote the true Interest of this Kingdom.

Your Majesty's gracious Acceptance of our Duty and Zeal for your Service, and your tender Concern for all your Subjects, which we have so long and so happily experienced, cannot fail to animate us with fresh Vigour for your Support; at this Time particularly, when we see, with Astonishment and Indignation, some of your Majesty's Subjects, so forgetful of the numberless Advantages derived to us from a Succession of Protestant Princes, and of the Cruelties formerly exercised by lawless Power, inflamed by superstitious Zeal, as wantonly to forgo the inestimable Blessings of a free Government, and conspire to sacrifice the Liberty, the Property, and the Religion of their Country, to the revengeful Tyranny of a popish and a long abjured Pretender.

For our Parts, we do unanimously and solemnly devote ourselves, our Lives and Fortunes, to the Preservation of your Majesty's sacred Person, and undoubted Title to the Crown of these these Realms, and to the Support of the Protestant Succession in your Royal and most Illustrious House.

We trust in the Divine Providence, that the unnatural Rebellion in Scotland will soon receive its due Chastisement; and that the Defection of those infatuated Rebels will serve only to distinguish more eminently the inviolable Loyalty of your Majesty's Subjects in general, and to establish still more firmly your Majesty's Throne in the Hearts of a dutiful and grateful People.

We reflect with great Satisfaction on the reasonable and chearful Assistance of the States-General; and have an entire Confidence in the Steadiness and Wisdom of your Majesty's Counsels, and your indefatigable Endeavours for the publick Good, that such effectual Measures will be concerted with them and your other faithful Allies, as may settle, upon solid and lasting Foundations, the Liberties of Europe, and establish and perpetuate the Tranquillity and Happiness of these Kingdoms. And we gladly lay hold of this Occasion to congratulate your Majesty on the invaluable Acquisition of Cape Breton; which, we doubt not, will contribute greatly to those glorious Purposes, as it will open a new Channel of Trade and Wealth to your Majesty's Subjects, and proportionably reduce the Power of that Crown, whose restless Ambition can be restrained by nothing but the Want of Power.

As we seriously lament, that so great a Number of our Fellow-Subjects in this Kingdom still remain enslaved to the Errors of Popery; so we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will zealously apply ourselves to the Consideration of such salutary Methods, as may most effectually guard us against the Dangers of a Superstition, whose Influence is so remarkably pernicious to Civil Society.

We are fully persuaded, that the best and most effectual Method to recommend ourselves to your Majesty's Favour, is, and always will be, to promote the true Interest of your People. We shall therefore neglect no Opportunity of Cultivating, to its utmost Perfection and Extent, the Linen Manufacture; a Branch of Trade so valuable, and so highly necessary to the Support of this Kingdom.

We assure your Majesty, that we will shew our true and unbiassed Regard for the Publick, by that Temper and Unanimity in our Proceedings, which are so particularly necessary in the present State of Affairs.

We humbly beg Leave to express our great Thankfulness to your Majesty for your Goodness, in placing over us, at this critical Juncture, his Excellency the Earl of Chesterfield, whose distinguished Abilities, often and signally exerted in the Service of your Majesty, so eminently qualify him for the important Trust now reposed in him by your Majesty, for the Security and Happiness of this Kingdom.

The Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

My Lords,

I will forthwith transmit this dutiful and affectionate Address to his Majesty.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeses in Parliament assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your safe Return to your British Dominions.

Filled with the highest Indignation at the Rebellion now raised in Scotland in Favour of a Pretender to your Majesty's Crown, we take this early Opportunity to express our Abhorrence of that unnatural Attempt to disturb your Majesty's Government, and subvert our happy Constitution.

With the utmost Sincerity and Zeal we assure your Majesty of our inviolable Attachment to your sacred Person and Government, and the Protestant Succession in your august House, which we are determined to support and defend against all your Enemies, at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes.

We shall ever gratefully acknowledge the Advantages we have enjoyed under your Majesty's wise and gentle Government, in the full Possession of our religious and civil Rights; Blessings unknown to the Subjects of popish and arbitrary Princes, and inconsistent with the avowed Principles of that Person, whom we have so often abjured.

We cannot have a stronger Assurance of your Majesty's tender Concern for us, than in your Choice of a Governor for this Kingdom, so eminent for great Abilities and distinguished Merit, as the Earl of Chesterfield; whose discerning Judgment has pointed out what is necessary for our Consideration and Care, both with Respect to the Honour of your Majesty's Government, and our own true Interest.

As the Safety of this Kingdom chiefly depends on the Strength of the Protestant Interest, we shall use our utmost Endeavours to prevent the Growth of Popery, and to frustrate the Attempts of Papists to disturb the publick Peace; and shall also, with Chearfulness and Unanimity, grant the Supplies necessary for the Support of the Establishment.

Be pleased, most Gracious Sovereign, to accept this humble Assurance of our Affection and Duty, which powerful Motives, as well as our Interest, indispensibly oblige us most ardently to wish, that your Majesty's Life may be long and prosperous; and that the Happiness we enjoy under your auspicious Reign, may be transmitted by your Royal Issue to our latest Posterity.

The Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

I will take the first Opportunity to transmit this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before his Majesty.

To his Excellency Philip Earl of Chesterfield,
Lord Lieutenant General and General Govern-nor of Ireland.

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to return your Excellency our most hearty Thanks for your excellent Speech, delivered from the Throne to both Houses of Parliament.

We esteem it a singular Instance of his Majesty's Favour and Goodness towards us, that he has been pleased to entrust the Government of this Kingdom to your Excellency, and at this critical Juncture to spare a Person of your Excellency's known and great Abilities from his Counsels in Great Britain, for the Good and Advantage of this Nation.

We want Words to express our Abhorrence of the unnatural Rebellion in Scotland against his most sacred Majesty, in Favour of a popish abjured Pretender. Our Hope and Trust is, that, by the Blessing of God on his Majesty's Counsels and Arms, this wicked Spirit will soon be quell'd, to the Disappointment and Confusion of all his Majesty's Enemies.

We rest assured, that our known Zeal and Fidelity have long since convinced his Majesty, that we are entirely devoted to the Defence of his sacred Person, and to the Support of his undoubted Right and Title to the Crown of these Realms, and of the Protestant Succession in his Illustrious and Royal House. Our Religion, our Laws, our Liberties, the greatest and dearest Blessings any People can enjoy, which have been always the Object of the tender Care and Concern of our most gracious Sovereign, cannot fail to inspire us with Zeal, and strengthen all our Endeavours, to support them.

We return your Excellency our unfeigned Thanks for the great Satisfaction you express at the flourishing State of our Linnen Manufacture.
That valuable Branch of our Trade is of too great Consequence to this Nation for us to neglect whatever may further promote the Increase and Improvement of it.

Though your Excellency has declined to make any Professions, but leaves us to judge of you by your Actions, we are fully satisfied of your sincere Intention to promote the Interest and Happiness of this Kingdom to the utmost of your Power. We must therefore think it incumbent upon us, on all Occasions, to give your Excellency the strongest Proofs of our high Regard, and to carry on the Business of this Session with such Temper and Unanimity, as will render your Excellency's Administration easy and successful.

En. Sterue, Cler' Parliamentor.

The Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

My Lords,

THE favourable Opinion you so early entertain of me, is an additional Motive to make me endeavour to deserve it. My only Claims to are, my Zeal for his Majesty's Service, and my sincere Wishes for the Prosperity of this Kingdom.

To his Excellency Philip Earl of Chesterfield, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses in Parliament assembled,

May it please your Excellency,

WE his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, do with the greatest Cheerfulness attend your Excellency, to return our sincere Thanks for your most excellent Speech to both Houses of Parliament.

His Majesty's having appointed a Person of your Excellency's great Abilities to be our chief Governor, at this critical Juncture, is a strong Instance of his paternal Care of, and Concern for, the Welfare of his People of this Kingdom.

The dreadful Calamities this Nation hath ever felt under the Scourge of lawless Power, influenced by the blind Zeal of popish Superstition, are powerful Incentives for us to exert our utmost Efforts, to disappoint the Designs, and check the Insolence of a popish Pretender, whose groundless Claim to the Throne is so contrary to the natural Rights of Mankind, and the particular Laws and Constitution of these Kingdoms.

But when we reflect on the Security of our Liberty, our Property, and our Religion, under his Majesty's just and mild Government, supported by your Excellency's Vigilance over the true Interest of this Kingdom, we cannot want further Motives to determine us to unite in the Defence of that Prince, from whom such invaluable Blessings are derived down to all his People.

We cannot but consider your Excellency's recommending to us the Care of the Linnen Manufacture, as a singular Mark of your great Regard for this Kingdom.

The great and high Offices which your Excellency has filled and discharged, so much to his Majesty's Satisfaction, and your own Honour, to the true Interest of your Country, and to the general Advantage of Europe, in the common Cause of Liberty, give us a pleasing Prospect of the Advantages we may hope for from your Excellency's Government. And we beg Leave to assure your Excellency that we shall contribute all in our Power to the Honour and Glorour of your Excellency's Administration.

E. Sterling, } Cler' Dom' Com'
H. Alcock, }

The Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

Nothing could give me greater Satisfaction than these Assurances of your good Opinion of me. I shall desire the Continuance of it no longer than while I endeavour to promote, as far as I am able, his Majesty's Service, and the true Interest of this Kingdom.

Kensington, October 15.

The following Address and Association of the Lord Lieutenant, Bishop, Nobility, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Sussex, have been presented to his Majesty by the Right Hon. Henry Pelham, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord Fauconberg: Which Address and Association his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, Bishop of the Diocese, Nobility, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Sussex, at a General Meeting held at Lewes, October the 11th, 1745.

May it please your Majesty,

TO accept from your loyal Subjects of this County, their Association entered into this Day, which flows from their Affection to your sacred Person, and this excellent Constitution; which they hope, by the Divine Blessing, to defend against all Attempts, and deliver entire to Posterity under (its best Security) your Majesty's illustrious House.

The Association.

WHEREAS there is now a horrid and unnatural Rebellion carried on by Papists and other traitorous Persons, and supported by the inveterate and declared Enemies of this Kingdom, with Intent to dethrone his Majesty King George, our rightful and lawful King, and to place his Crown on the Head of a popish Pretender, the Tool of France and Rome, in order to subvert our Religion and Laws, and enslave our Persons and Consciences; We whose Names are hereunto subscribed, being convinc'd that a Union of Hearts and Forces will most contribute to the Safety of his Majesty, and of our Country, do voluntarily and firmly bind ourselves, every one of us the one to the other, jointly and severally, in the Bond of one loyal Society; and do hereby solemnly promise, that with our Lives and Estates, we and every of us will stand by and assist each other in Defence of his Majesty's sacred Person and Government, and will, as well by Force of Arms, as by all other effectual Means, oppose the said Pretender and Traitors, and all Persons and their Abettors, who shall attempt, act, council, or consent to any Thing tending to the Harm of his Majesty King George, or any of his Royal Family. All which we declare, before God and the World, we will faithfully perform.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of Salisbury, having been transmitted by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Salisbury, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty; Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of Salisbury.

May it please your Majesty,

WE the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of Salisbury, beg Leave to express before your Majesty, our Abhorrence of the present unnatural Rebellion raised in this Kingdom.

Duty to your Majesty, Concern for our holy Religion, and a just Regard to our Civil Rights and Liberties, call upon us with united Force to exert our utmost Endeavours, to support your Crown against the Attempts of a Popish Pretender, to maintain the Purity of the Gospel professed in this Kingdom, against the Corruptions of the Church of Rome, and to defend the Laws of our Country from being trampled upon by arbitrary Power.

In all these Views we have a common Interest with our Fellow-Subjects, as Protestants and Englishmen: But, as Ministers of the Gospel, we are in a particular Manner obliged to watch for the Souls committed to our Care. And as we cannot without Grief of Heart observe, how sensibly the Zeal for true Religion decays; and how openly a Spirit of Irreligion and Profaneness shews itself; we have just Reason to fear the Displeasure of God, and will use our own Endeavours, and call upon all others to use theirs in their several Stations, to correct these Vices, inconsistent with the Safety and Prosperity of Nations.

That your Majesty may long reign over us in Peace and Security; and transmit the Crown of these Realms to your Royal Family; is and shall be our daily Prayer.

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of the Diocese of Exeter, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Exeter, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of the Diocese of Exeter.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and and others of the Clergy of the City and Diocese of Exeter, do most humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your Return to these Kingdoms; and upon the Success which, by a good Providence, has attended your Counsels Abroad, in raising the House of Austria again to the Imperial Dignity.

And our most indispensable Duty it is, at this Juncture, to lay before you our utmost Detestation and Abhorrence of the unnatural Rebellion now begun in this Island, in Favour of a popish Pretender.

We are too sensible of the present Happiness of your People, fully enjoying, under your Majesty, all their most valuable Rights, religious and civil, not to be moved with the greatest Indignation at this daring and wicked Attempt to bereave us of these Blessings.

And whilst our Enemies are insolently menacing us with a Change, which we cannot think of but with Horror, and which must bring upon us a Deluge of the greatest Evils which can befall a Protestant Church and a Free People; warm'd as we are, with a due Zeal for the pure and holy Religion established amongst us, and for the Laws and Liberties of our Country, we of the Clergy think ourselves more especially obliged to stir up in all committed to our Charge, the liveliest Sense of their Duty to your Majesty, under God, the great Protector and Defender of both; a Sense of their common Interest, publick and private, as well as other the strongest Obligations, on this important Occasion; when the Welfare and Safety of all of us is so visibly and apparently united with that of your most sacred Majesty, and your Royal Family.

We shall not fail to offer up to Almighty God our most fervent Prayers, that the same Divine Providence, which has hitherto deliver'd us, may still continue an invincible Shield for the Defence of your Majesty and your People.

The following Address of the Bishop, Archdeacon and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Landaff, and of the rest of the Clergy of the Diocese of Landaff, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Landaff, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Archdeacon and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Landaff, and of the rest of the Clergy of the Diocese of Landaff.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful Subjects, the Bishop, Archdeacon and Chapter of your Cathedral Church of Landaff, and the rest of the Clergy of the Diocese of Landaff, do with all Humility beg Leave publickly to declare our Joy, and congratulate your Majesty upon your Majesty's happy Return to these your British Dominions: And at the same Time we return our most hearty Thanks to that Almighty Providence, which hath not only preserved your Majesty's invaluable Person, but crown'd your unwearied generous Labour, in the Cause of Liberty, with Success.

It is therefore, Sir, Matter of less Surprize to us, as the Passions of Men are so apt to blind their Understandings, that so effectual a Stop to the unbounded Ambition of the Common Enemies to the Peace of Europe, should fill them with a Spirit of Revenge, and push them upon the rash Attempt of endeavouring to raise an abjured Papist to the Throne of these Kingdoms, and secure Success to their future Schemes by the Destruction of your Majesty's Influence and Power at the Head of this Free Nation, from whence they feel the real Opposition to their Measures flows: An Attempt which therefore cannot fail to awaken the Attention of all Europe, as well as to fill those, who have the Happiness to live under your Majesty's mild and just, and legal Government, with the warmest Indignation.

In whatever Light we view ourselves, whether as Ministers of the pure Word of God professed and taught in the Established Church of this Nation, or as enjoying, in common with the rest of your Majesty's Subjects, all the Benefits and Advantages of Civil Government, we see our All at Stake, and every Blessing we enjoy brought into Danger. In one View we see sincere Truth, pure Religion, and real Goodness, engaged against the grossest Error, Superstition and Hypocrisy; and tremble to think of the dreadful Means, the various Inhumanity with which they, who live and thrive by their own Corruptions, bind them down upon the Consciences of Mankind: In the other we see our Liberty and our Property engaged against Dependence and Slavery, and all the other Terrors of arbitrary and lawless Power.

In this Situation, Sir, we fly to your Majesty for Protection; and do most thankfully acknowledge, that, next and immediately under the Divine Providence, we look up for Safety to your Wisdom and to your Goodness, in whose Royal Person, and in whose Royal House, under God, reside both our present Comfort and our future Hope. * Justly sensible therefore, that every Obligation, whether publick or private, sacred or civil, civil, constrains us to it, we do with all Humility beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will most zealously endeavour to convince the People respectively committed to our Care, of these self-evident important Truths: That we will not cease to offer up to God our most fervent Prayers, That it may please him to take your Majesty, the human Source of all our earthly Happiness, into his immediate Protection: To bless your Majesty in your Councils, and in your Arms; and cause every wicked Device, which the Malice of your Enemies may form against you, to be disappointed and brought to Nought: And that we will most cheerfully make Use of all the just and lawful Means it shall please God to put into our Power, to defeat the audacious Attempt which at present disturbs the envied Peace of these Kingdoms; the Authors of which can form to themselves no Hopes of Success, but in the insolent Supposition, that this Nation hath renounced all its Pretensions both to common Sense and common Honesty.

The following Association of the Mayor, Aldermen, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, Burgesses, and others Inhabitants of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham, having been transmitted by the Mayor of Nottingham, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, Lord Lieutenant of the said County, Recorder of the Town of Nottingham, and one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Association his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

An Association of the Mayor, Aldermen, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, Burgesses, and others Inhabitants of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham.

WHEREAS there is now a horrid and unnatural Rebellion formed and carried on in Scotland by Papists and other wicked and traitorous Persons, countenanced and supported by the ancient and implacable Enemies of our Country, with Intent to dethrone his Majesty King George, to subvert our Religion and Liberty, and place the Crown of Great Britain on the Head of a popish Pretender, who must, for his own Safety, be dependant on France and Rome; We whose Names are hereunto subscribed, being fully convinced that an Union of our Hearts and Forces will greatly conduce to his Majesty's Safety, and the Protection of our Country, do voluntarily and firmly bind ourselves, every one of us the one to the other, jointly and severally, in the Bond of one loyal Society; and do hereby promise solemnly, that with our Bodies, Lives and Estates, we and every of us will stand by and assist each other in the Support and Defence of his Majesty's sacred Person and Government; and will, as well by Force of Arms, as by all other lawful Means, withstand the said popish Pretender and Traytors, and all Manner of Persons and their Abettors, who shall attempt, act, counsel, or consent to any Thing that shall tend to the Harm of his Majesty King George, or any of his Royal Family; all which we will faithfully perform, according to the plain Sense and Meaning of the above-written Instrument, as we hope for Favour from Almighty God, and Esteem amongst good Men.

Dated this Thirtieth Day of September, 1745.

The following Address of the Mayor, Justice, Aldermen, Grand Jury, and other Principal Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Taunton in the County of Somerset, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir John Chapman, Bart. one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Justices, Aldermen, Grand Jury, and other principal Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Taunton, in the County of Somerset, assembled at a General Quarter Sessions of the Peace, held in and for the said Borough and Town, the 27th Day of September 1745.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your safe Arrival to your British Dominions, where we most sincerely wish your Majesty and your Royal Descendants may reign in Safety (in Spite of all Popish and Rebellious Opposition) till the End of Time. And we further beg Leave, with Hearts full of the utmost Sincerity and Gratitude, to assure you, Royal Sir, that we are determin'd to maintain, support, and defend your Majesty's Person, Crown and Dignity, to the utmost of our Power, at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, having nothing more at Heart, than the Preservation of your Majesty and your illustrious Family. And that you and they may always reign in the Affections of your People, and may for ever govern these Realms with the greatest Tranquillity; and that every True Britain may with us be inspired with the same Zeal and Affections for your Majesty's Person and Family, are and will be the constant Wishes

Wishes of us your Majesty's, most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Given under our Common Seal at our said Quarter Sessions, the 27th Day of September 1745.

The following Address of the Bailiffs, High-Steward, Recorder, Aldermen, and Capital Burgessees of the Borough of Maldon, in the County of Essex, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir Thomas Drury, Bart. and Robert Colebrooke, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, High Steward, Recorder, Aldermen and Capital Burgessees of your Majesty's ancient Borough of Maldon in the County of Essex.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THOUGH we are not the first that approach your Royal Presence, to congratulate your Majesty on your safe Return to this Kingdom, and upon the important Event, the Acquisition of Cape Breton; yet, permit us (Sir) to assure you, that we are behind none in Unanimity and publick Zeal for the Preservation of your sacred Person, and our Constitution in Church and State.

We know the latter must be the Consequence of the former, and that nothing can preserve to us our Religious and Civil Rights, but continuing a Succession of Princes to sit upon this Throne in the Protestant Line.

Warm'd with these Sentiments, we take this Occasion to express our Abhorrence of the present Rebellion. An Attempt calculated to bring these Kingdoms into Slavery and Bondage: But in this Cause we are firmly resolved to join our utmost Strength in the Support of the present Government, as established in your illustrious Family.

May God protect your sacred Person, prosper your Councils, and crown your Arms with Success; may Religion and Loyalty animate the Passions of the Age: These will keep the Crown easy on your Royal Head; will transmit it safely to your Posterity, and make us a great and happy People.

Given under our Common Seal, at the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace, holden for the said Borough in the Moot-hall there, the 7th Day of October 1745.

The following Address of the Custos Rotulorum, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen and Citizens of the City and Liberty of Peterborough, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Fitzwilliams, Custos Rotulorum of the said City and Liberty, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting; Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Custos Rotulorum, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen and Citizens of the City and Liberty of Peterborough.

Most gracious Sovereign,

AMIDST the loud Acclamations of your faithful People, permit us, your most dutiful and loyal Subjects, to approach the Throne, and offer up our most joyful Congratulations for your Majesty's most seasonable and safe Return to these your British Dominions, and also for the glorious Success of your Majesty's Arms in the Conquest of Cape Breton; an Acquisition the more valuable, as it not only covers the Northern American Colonies from the Influxes of their Enemies, but secures as well as enlarges the Trade and Commerce of all your Subjects.

If any Thing could lessen or damp our Joy upon this happy Occasion, 'tis that there should be found amongst us Wretches so forgetful of that Duty they owe your Majesty, and so lost to the Glory and Prosperity of their Country, as not only by open Rebellion to encourage Foreign Invasions, and disturb the Peace and Tranquillity of your happy Reign, but, as far as in them lies, to subvert our legal Constitution, and perpetuate our Misery, by inviting a popish Pretender to usurp the Throne of these Protestant Kingdoms: Cursed Event! should it ever happen, which must at once subject the Lives, Liberties and Properties of a Free People, to the lawless Lust of an arbitrary Tyrant, and the Members of a Protestant Church, to the cruel and unrelenting Vengeance of popish Inquisitors.

But that good Providence, which ever watches over virtuous and religious Kings, and which has hitherto, in Mercy to us, preserv'd your most Gracious Majesty, to be the Defence and Glory of your People, will, we hope, blast all their wicked Designs, unravel all their Plots, and bring the Authors and Abettors to deserv'd Ruin and Confusion. Whilst the same gracious Providence, showering down the choicest of its Blessings upon your Royal Person and Family, and continuing your Majesty the Guardian of our civil Rights and Liberties, and the Defender of our holy Faith, shall make your Name loved and revered, not only as it is by the present, but also by all future Generations.

For us, we shall shew the whole World our inviolable Attachment to your Royal Person and Family; for well we know, our civil and religious Rights are so interwoven with those of the Crown, and with the Glory of our Prince, the Safety and Good of his People, that out of Love and Regard to ourselves and our Posterity; we shall ever think ourselves obliged to oppose all your Enemies, and by a ready Sacrifice of every Thing that can be dear to us, even to the utmost Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, to support and maintain your Majesty's Crown and Dignity, and the Protestant Succession in your most August and Royal Family.

The following Address and Association of the Admirals, Captains, and other Officers of his Majesty's Fleet, having been transmitted by Sir John Norris, Admiral and Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Fleet, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address and Association his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address and Association of the Admirals, Captains, and other Officers of your Majesty's Fleet.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Admirals, Captains, and Officers of the Royal Navy, being fully sensible of the Blessings all Ranks and Orders of Men enjoy under your mild and legal Government, beg Leave to express our utmost Abhorrences of the present unnatural Rebellion, and do truly and heartily associate ourselves, and hereby agree and engage ourselves to each other, on the Faith of good Subjects, and the Honour of Gentlemen, to the following Purposes, viz.

THAT we will bear a True, Firm, and Unshaken Loyalty to your Majesty: That we will do our utmost, by all Ways, to destroy all Ships, Vessels, and Forces, that may be employ'd, by any Power whatever, to invade your Dominions, or bring over any Arms, Succours, or Assistance to the Pretender or his perjured and other Adherents; and that we never, either through Fear or Favour, will submit ourselves to any Government, or yield up our Ships to any Authority, except that of your Majesty or your Royal Posterity; but that we will wage perpetual War with the Enemies to your Majesty's Government, and the Religion, Laws, and Liberties of our native Country, until the said Enemies be utterly destroy'd, or driven out of your Kingdoms.

The above, as immediate Servants to the Crown, we are bound to by Oath, Honour, and every Thing sacred amongst Mankind: But as we are Men, who have the peculiar Happiness to be born under a Constitution, the best calculated in the World for the Dignity and Welfare of Mankind, we should think ourselves unworthy of the Benefits we thereby enjoy, if we did not, at a Time it is so infamously attacked, contribute, to the utmost of our Abilities, our private Fortunes in its Support: And do therefore desire your Majesty will be graciously pleased, to direct some proper Person to receive the voluntary Subscriptions of your Sea-Officers in Money, and likewise any Bills drawn on the Treasurer of your Navy, for Wages due to us in your Fleet; and cause the Sums, arising from the same, to be expended in Raising a Regiment for your Majesty's Service, with such Officers as you shall direct: And we doubt not, but such Subscriptions will be made, as will convince the World, that we your Majesty's Sea-Officers are unalterably, your Majesty's most dutiful, obedient, and devoted Servants,

The following Address and Association of the Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Suffolk, have been presented to his Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Grafton, Lord Lieutenant of the said County, and Lord Chamberlain of his Majesty's Household: Which Address and Association his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Suffolk.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects of this County, desirous in these Times of imminent Danger, of testifying our Affection and zealous Attachment to your Royal Person, Family and Government, and of our Detestation of the wicked and traitorous Attempt, in Favour of a popish Pretender, have this Day, with unanimous Concurrence, entered into a solemn Association, which we beg Leave humbly to lay before your Majesty.

The Association.

WHereas there is now an horrid and unnatural Rebellion formed and carried on by Papists, and other wicked, and traitorous Persons, countenanced and supported by the secret and avowed Enemies of our Country, with Intent to dethrone his Majesty King George, to subvert our Religion and Liberties, and to place the Crown of Great Britain on the Head of a popish Pretender, who must for his own Safety be dependent on France and Rome;

We whose Names are hereunto subscribed, being fully convinced that a Union of Hearts and Forces will greatly conduce to his Majesty's Safety and the Protection of our County, do voluntarily and firmly bind ourselves, every one of us the one to the other, jointly and severally, in the Bond of one Loyal Society: And we do hereby solemnly promise, that with our Lives and Fortunes we and every of us will stand by and assist each other, in the Support and Defence of his Majesty's sacred Person, Family and Government, and will, as well with Force of Arms, as by all other lawful Means, withstand the said popish Pretender and Traytors, and all Manner of Persons and their Abettors, who shall attempt, act, council, or consent to any Thing that that shall tend to the Harm of his Majesty King George, or any of his Royal Family. All which we will faithfully perform, according to the plain Sense and Meaning of the above-written Instrument, as we hope for Favour from Almighty God, and Esteem amongst good Men.

Oct. 14, 1745.

Leipsig, Oct. 18, N.S. There is certain Advice, that on the 15th Instant Prince Anhalt Dessau, with the greatest Part of his Army, was at Konnern, having left two Regiments at Halle, and sent some small Detachments over the Sala to Nelben and to Aschersleben. It is thought his Highness will retreat farther towards Magdeburg, and put his Troops into Winter Quarters of Cantonment. Their Polish Majesties are returned to Dresden.

Willemstadt, Oct. 23. Seven Battalions under Lord Albemarle's Command are embarked, and now falling down to Helvoetsluys, to take the first favourable Opportunity to sail for Newcastle. Twenty-three Transports from England arrived here this Day, and it is expected that two Regiments of Horse or Dragoons will arrive here next Monday from the Allied Army.

Helvoet Road, on board the Gibraltar Man of War, October 25. A Ship of 20 Guns, two small Sloops, and 25 Transports, with seven Battalions, and the Prisoners returned from France, belonging to the Regiments of Pulteney and Cholmondely on board, are since Yesterday Morning riding in this Road, but detained by a strong N. W. Wind.

Hague, Oct. 22, N.S. We have Advice from Dunkirk, that on the 15th Instant six Ships, carrying from 10 to 16 Guns, sailed out of that Port to the Northward, laden with Arms and Ammunition, and full mann'd, with several Officers, but no Soldiers on board.

Hague, Oct. 26, N.S. As far as we hear, the French remain quiet in the Winter Quarters they have taken up. But the Report of Marshal Saxe's Return to Paris proves ill-grounded, that General being, when the last Letters came away, at Ghent. Baron Sohlen-thal is still here, but proposes to pass over to England by the first commodious Opportunity. Count Rosenberg from the Court of Russia is expected here soon.

St. James's, October 16.

This Day his Majesty and the Royal Family came from Kensington to this Place, to reside here during the Winter.

St. James's, October 19.

Yesterday Morning about Nine o'Clock, his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland arrived here in good Health; his Highness left Brussels on Monday last at Six in the Evening, arrived at Willemstadt the next Day, and at Noon on Wednesday embarked on board his Majesty's Yacht the Fubbs off Helvoetsluys, and landed on Thursday about Two in the Afternoon, at Southwold in Suffolk.

Whitehall, October 16.

Letters from Berwick of the 12th confirm the Account sent upon the 9th, that 500 Men from Aberdeenshire had joined the Rebels; they marched into Dalkeith upon the 9th and 10th, under the Command of the Lord Pitligoe.

Whitehall, October 17.

An Express arrived this Day with Advices of the 14th from Berwick: The Garrison of Edinburgh continued to be plentifully supplied with Provisions, the Communication between it and the Town not having been at all interrupted by the Rebels since the Order for opening it was published: That a Scotch Ship was arrived at Montrose, and had brought (as was given out) Money and Arms, and some Officers, for the Use of the Rebels, who continued upon the 13th in and about Edinburgh, without any Appearance of an immediate March from thence, tho' they continued issuing Orders for the Country Horses to come in to them upon the 15th, upon Pain of military Execution. These Orders extended not only to the Lothians, but even to Hamilton, of which Place 100 Horses had been demanded. The Rebels had formed a Scheme for getting into their Hands a Ship in Leith Road, on board of which were some new Pieces of Cannon, about 25 Barrels of Powder, and some Firelocks. This Vessel, as there was no Access for her to Leith, was committed to the Care of the Fox Man of War in the Firth. Four Masters of Ships had undertaken to go off to her with 18 Hands, cut her Cable, and let her drive till she got out of the Reach of the Man of War's Guns, and then carry her into Leith Harbour; but the Night before this was to have been executed, Captain Beavor got Intelligence of the Plot, and immediately put 20 of his Hands on board her, and moored her under his own Stern.

Whitehall, October 19.

By Letters from Berwick of the 16th, the Rebels had on Sunday and Monday last left their Camp at Duddinston, and were, on the 15th at Midnight, in the Town and Suburbs of Edinburgh.

By the Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

A P R O C L A M A T I O N,

Promising a Reward of Fifty Thousand Pounds to any Person or Persons who shall seize and secure the Person of the Eldest Son of the Pretender alive, or bring in his Body dead, if he shall land or attempt to land in this Kingdom.

*W*Hereas the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled have humbly addressed us, that we would immediately issue a Proclamation, offering a Reward of Fifty thousand Pounds to any Person or Persons, who shall seize and secure the eldest Son of the Pretender alive, or bring in his Body dead, if he shall land or attempt to land in this Kingdom;

We therefore, in Compliance with the said seasonable and loyal Address, and for encouraging every Person whatsoever to use his utmost Endeavour to seize and secure the Person of the said eldest Son of the Pretender alive, or bring in his Body dead, in case he shall land or attempt to land in this Kingdom, as aforesaid, do by publish and declare, that we will necessary Orders for the Payment of the Sum of Fifty thousand Pounds Sterling, to any such Person or Persons as shall apprehend, seize and secure the Body of the eldest Son of the Pretender dead or alive, in case he shall land or attempt to land in this Kingdom as aforesaid.

And we do hereby Command all his Majesty's Officers Civil and Military, and all others his Majesty's Subjects, to make diligent Search for, and to use their utmost Endeavours to seize and secure alive or dead the said eldest Son of the Pretender, if landed in this Kingdom, or attempting to land therein; and when he shall be so seized and secured, to give Notice thereof immediately to the chief Governor or Governors of this Kingdom for the Time being.

And we do hereby strictly charge and command all his Majesty's Subjects, that they in no wise knowingly Receive, Harbour, Comfort, Relieve, Aid or Conceal the said eldest Son of the Pretender, and in case any Person or Persons shall be found to offend therein, we do hereby publish and declare, that such Person or Persons shall be proceeded against with the utmost Rigour of Law.

Given at his Majesty's Castle of Dublin, the 10th Day of October, 1745.

By his Excellency's Command,

R. LIDDELL.

GOD save the King.

Whitehall, October 19, 1745.

Whereas it has been represented to his Majesty, that an anonymous Letter, dated the 5th Day of this Instant October, was directed to, and came to the Hands of the Mayor of the City of Norwich; and also another anonymous Letter, dated the 8th Day of this Instant October, was directed to, and came to the Hands of the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Norwich, in both which Letters an Account is given of treasonable Meetings, a Conspiracy, and Rebelious Designs, (chiefly agitated and promoted by an Elderly Man, who seems to be a Priest, and to have been born in Ireland) being form'd, plann'd, and carried on in Norwich, Bungay, Wymondham, Harleston, and other Towns; and of the said Priest's, and the other Conspirators, having engaged, and bound themselves by the most solemn Oaths and Imprecations, and provided a great Number of Fire Arms, and a large Quantity of Ammunition, to rise in Favour of the Pretender: His Majesty, for the better discovering the Author or Authors of the said Letters, and bringing to Justice any Person or Persons concerned in the said Conspiracy, is pleased to promise his most gracious Pardon to any one of them, who shall discover his Accomplice or Accomplices, so as he, she, or they, may be apprehended and convicted thereof.
