Kensington, July 8.

The following Address of the Justices of the Peace and Heritors in the Eastern Division of Ross-shire, having been transmitted to their Representative in Parliament, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Unto the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Justices of the Peace and Heritors in the Eastern Division of Ross-shire, met at Tain head Burgh of said Shire.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

AS we your Majesty's most faithful and loving Subjects have made it our constant Rule, that a Submission to the Supreme Power is our Duty as Subjects, and our Interest as we are hearty Well-wishers to your Majesty's Government under which we live, and in Support whereof we very lately rescued Life and Fortune, as we shall do upon all Occasions in Defence of that mild Administration by which we are ruled, and of our Religion and Liberties with which we are bless'd;

We do therefore, with Hearts full of Joy, congratulate your Majesty upon the late happy Overthrow of the Rebels near this Place, under the wise and brave Conduct of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, our second Deliverer, from Popish Slavery and Arbitrary Power, by which this Corner of the County suffered in a singular Manner; through their lawless and vindictive Spirits, which our known and constant Attachment towards your Majesty's illustrious Family brought upon us.

That your Majesty's Reign over a free and happy People may be long and prosperous, and the Government thereafter continue in your Royal Family unto the latest Ages, in Defiance and to the Disappointment of Enemies Abroad and at Home: And that these Nations may never want a Hero of your illustrious Family to assert our Religion and Liberties, is and shall be the constant Prayer of,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Signed at our Sight and Appointment, by the Præsides to the Meeting,

Simon Ross; of Aldie, Pr.

Venice, June 29, N. S. During the Armistice for burying the Dead, M. Maillebois owned to the Austrian Generals, that the Allied Armies of France, Spain, Naples and Genoa, had been very roughly handled, and that their Loss in the Action and by Desertion amounted to 14,000 Men. The Spaniards remain still in their Camp near Placentia, which begins from the Po on the Left, and takes a Circuit of near seven Miles. They have lately thrown two Bridges over the Po, and being much streighten'd for Subsistence, have sent a large Body into the Lodosan, who have established their Head Quarters at Lodi, where they have a Garrison of 3000 Men. They have also a Bridge over the Lambro, and it is pretty certain, that their Project was to have thrown themselves into the Pavesan, but have been prevented by the King of Sardinia's
