Kenfington, August 2.

THE following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Chichester, has been presented to his Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Richmond: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Chichester.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Chichester, most humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence, with our heartiest and most sincere Congratulations on the glorious Event of that compleat and signal Victory which your Majesty's Arms have lately obtained over your rebellious Subjects in Scotland; who vainly confiding in their own imaginary Strength, and the powerful Assistance of the common Disturber of Europe, insolently dared to support the Claim, and follow the Standard of an abjured Pretender.

It is with the highest Sense of Gratitude to your Majesty, that we acknowledge your paternal Care of your People, in committing to your illustrious Son the Duke the supreme Command upon that important Occasion; who by the united Influence of his Conduct and Courage in that ever memorable Day, has been the chief Instrument in the Hand of Providence, of securing to us the peaceable Enjoyment of our holy Religion, our sacred Laws, and our constitutional Liberties.

[Price Four-pence.]

That the same Almighty Providence may bestow its Blessing on your Majesty's Arms both by Sea and Land, against all your Enemies foreign and domestick; that you may see the Liberties of Europe, and in Consequence thereof, the Peace and Happiness of your People settled on a firm and durable Foundation; that after a long and quiet Possession of the Crown, it may descend in an uninterrupted Succession to your latest Posterity, are the fervent Prayers of us your Majesty's faithful and dutiful Subjects.

Sealed with the common Seal of the said City, the 28th Day of July, in the Twentieth Year of your Reign.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, and Grand Jury of the County of Cumberland, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Lonsdale, Lord Lieutenant of the said County, was by him presented to his Majesty; who was pleased to receive the same very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, and Grand Jury of the County of Cumberland, assembled at the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace holden at Carlisle, in and for the said County, the Sixteenth Day of July, One thousand seven hundred and forty six.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, and Grand Jury of the County of Cumberland, most humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty, with Hearts full of the sincerest Joy, to congratulate your Majesty on the glorious Success of your Arms, under the auspicious Conduct and Command of his Royal Highness the Duke, over the Rebels.

When we consider the many invaluable Blessings we so fully enjoy, in all our Civil and Religious Rights and Liberties, under your Majesty's most prudent and mild Administration and Government, and at the same Time reflect upon the late most wicked and execrable Designs and Attempts of our Enemies to deprive us thereof; we want Words to express our grateful Acknowledgments to Heaven, and the Transports we feel in our Breasts on so great a Deliverance.

May Success attend your Majesty's Arms against all your Enemies at Home and Abroad. May your Majesty long live and reign over us, the distinguished Guardian and Protector, under Heaven, of all our Civil and Religious Rights and Liberties; and may there never want a Prince descended from your Majesty, on the Throne of these Kingdoms, to continue these Blessings to our latest Posterity.

The following Address of the Bishop, High-Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Carmarthen, has been presented to his Majesty by John Vaughan, Esq; Representative in Parliament for the County of Carmarthen, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl Paulett, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Carmarthen.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the late seasonable and glorious Victory obtained by your Majesty's Arms, under the prudent Command and valiant Conduct of his Royal Highness the Duke, over your Majesty's infatuated and rebellious Subjects, fomented and supported by our avowed Enemy, the House of Bourbon.

When our Religion, Laws and Liberties, were endangered by those unhappy deluded Wretches and their Fomentors, your Majesty shewed the utmost Regard and Concern for your People, and for our happy Establishment, not only in providing for our Safety, but also in the Choice of your Son, that illustrious Hero, to command your Arms, who has so early and so gloriously distinguished himself in the Cause of Religion and Liberty; and we should esteem ourselves unworthy of your Majesty's paternal Care, if we did not, in the strongest Manner, endeavour to express our Gratitude.

May Success attend your Majesty's Arms, until Tranquillity be restored to your Subjects; and may Providence ever preserve your sacred Majesty; and grant that there never may be wanting a Prince descended of your illustrious House to reign over this Nation, are the hearty Prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following Address of the Justices, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Huntingdon, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir Edward Lawson, Chairman of the Sessions, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord Viscount Harcourt, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Justices, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Huntingdon, at a General Quarter Sessions, assembled at Huntingdon, in and for the said County, the 15th Day of July, in the Year of our Lord 1746.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to approach your sacred Person, with our most affectionate Congratulations, on the late glorious Victory obtained by your Majesty's Forces under the Command of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, over those unnatural Rebels, who, with the Assistance of our most inveterate Enemies Abroad, have wickedly attempted to introduce a popish and abjured Pretender among us, in order to subvert the best Government, and ruin the happiest Nation in the World.

Your Majesty's Appointment of a Prince of your Royal Blood to command your Troops on this important Occasion, who has been trained up to Arms under your own Instructions, and formed by your great Example, is an illustrious Instance of your Wisdom and paternal Care of your People; and the indefatigable Vigilance, Conduct, and Bravery of his Royal Highness, will shine with a distinguished Lustre in our History, and for ever endear him to these Nations.

Animated by the Valour of this young Hero, and conducted with a military Judgment worthy the most veteran and experienced Captain of the Age, your Officers, and all your Troops that were engaged, have by their Firmness and Courage maintained the ancient Glory of the British Name.

Name, and give us great Hopes to see that proud Prince yet humbled Abroad, whose perfidious Attempts on your Majesty's Throne and the inseparable Happiness of your People, has been so remarkably defeated in this Country.

We desire to take this Opportunity of renewing to your Majesty the warmest Assurances of our unshaken Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government, and our fervent Prayers, that your precious Life may be long, and your Reign be blessed with all the Returns of Gratitude that your Majesty's unwearied Labours for the Prosperity of your People justly require; and that the Happiness that your Majesty is endeavouring to secure for us and our Posterity, may be convey'd down to them by your illustrious Descendants, to the End of Time.

The following Address of the Alderman, Recorder, Burgesses, and others, Inhabitants within the Town and Corporation of Wokingham, in the Counties of Berks and Wilts, has been presented to his Majesty by his Grace the Duke of St. Albans: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Alderman, Recorder, Burgesses, and others, Inhabitants within the Town and Corporation of Wokingham, in the Counties of Berks and Wilts.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PERmit us your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, at this Time in open Sessions assembled, most humbly to offer at your Royal Feet, our sincerest Tender and Tribute of Joy, upon the late glorious and compleat Victory obtained by your Majesty's Arms over the Rebels at Culloden, under the auspicious Influence, and distinguish'd Conduct of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland.

Your Majesty has given, upon this important Occasion, the strongest and most convincing Proof of your tender Care and Regard for your People; and it would be very extraordinary indeed, if we, on our Parts, should at all be wanting in the warmest Returns of Gratitude and Thankfulness. But, among the many Marks of princely Goodness, steadily and uniformly shewn, both by yourself and Royal Father, ever since the Accession of your illustrious House to the Crown of these Kingdoms, none has shone more conspicuous, or ought deeper to engage the Hearts and Affections of a grateful People, than to see their Sovereign, at a Time when his distressed Subjects most wanted it, divert himself, for their Sakes, of the natural Ties of paternal Tenderness, and condescend to suffer his heroick Son, just then return'd from his Country's Service Abroad, to expose his invaluable Person at Home, to the merciless Fury of a savage Multitude, animated with a sort of brutal Fierceness, and made courageous merely by Despair.

But at the same Time, that we are warmed with the purest Sentiments of Gratitude and Duty, we cannot but be filled with the most boundless Joy, to behold the wicked Attempts of this poor deluded Crew, (Attempts to bereave us at once of all we hold dear and precious) defeated and disappointed by the Valour and Activity of this Royal Chief, whose Courage and Conduct sufficiently bespeak his high Descent, and well intitle him to stand among the foremost in the long Line of Heroes, immemorially descended from the House of Hanover.

Nor is it a small Addition to the Satisfaction we feel upon this most signal Deliverance, to consider, that the Destruction, prepared for us and for our Children, being thus happily, and we hope in God, effectually ended, turns most strongly upon the wicked Contrivers of it themselves, in as much as it must convince them, if they are to be convinc'd, how presumptuous and vain their Expectations are, and how inconsistent true British Liberty is with lawless Rule and arbitrary Power; which Fact, is in itself so clear and undeniable, that if it be but attended to with that Seriousness which it requires, it must add Stability and Firmness to the Protestant Establishment in the House of Hanover, and evermore put to Silence the Discontents and Murmurs of a mistaken Few, who would again bring us, if they could, under that Yoke which galled our Fathers, and which most assuredly would gall us too, should we ever be so unhappy as to make the Tryal.

Given under our Common Seal this 18th Day of July, 1746.

The following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Commonalty of the City of Corke, having been transmitted to his Excellency the Earl of Chesterfield, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Commonalty of the City of Corke.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs and Commonalty of the City of Corke, beg Leave to approach your sacred Person with our most sincere and hearty Congratulations for the glorious Victory obtained by his Royal Highness the Duke, over the most perfidious, the most ungrateful, and the most unprovoked Rebels that ever infested Great Britain, or any other Nation.

When

When we consider by whom, and at what Season this unnatural Rebellion was fomented; that it was raised and maintained by the common Enemies of the Liberties of Europe, at the Instant they were using their utmost Efforts to subvert the Freedom of Mankind; that it was manifestly contrived to distress your Majesty's Affairs at Home, by introducing Confusion into your Kingdoms, by which they hoped to disable your faithful Subjects from giving your Majesty the Aid necessary for carrying on successfully the just War in which your Majesty is engaged; we cannot too loudly rejoice for the Success of your Majesty's Arms over wicked Rebels, infatuated Dupes to the Ambition of Princes ever Enemies to the well being of British Subjects.

But when we figure to ourselves the lamentable Circumstances, under which your Majesty's Protestant Subjects would inevitably have groaned had the Rebellion been successful; that those of your faithful Subjects, who had the Misfortune to survive it, would have been the Sport and Scorn of merciless Priests and Papists; would have been at once deprived of the Exercise of the purest Religion, and the Enjoyment of their Liberty and Property; and must have parted with your Majesty's gentle and legal Government, for that of a popish Outlaw, directed by the arbitrary and cruel Maxims of France, Spain and Rome; we can never enough praise God for our great Deliverance, nor be sufficiently thankful to your Majesty for your paternal Care of us and the rest of your Majesty's Subjects, which you manifested, by exposing one of your Royal Issue, so justly dear to your Majesty, to the imminent Dangers of a barbarous War, merely to secure to your People the Enjoyment of those Blessings, which they cannot lose, whilst your Majesty holds the Scepter of these Kingdoms.

May your Majesty's Reign over these Kingdoms be long and happy; and may you be succeeded to the End of Time by your own Royal and Illustrious Descendants; may your Majesty be ever victorious over your Enemies, and reign in the Hearts of a grateful and flourishing People; may your Power be ever formidable to those, who would load the World with Chains; may it confound them who would interrupt the Happiness of those who live under your Government, and may your Subjects continue to be the Envy of the whole World, being protected by your Bravery, and directed by your Wisdom.

Given under the Common Seal of the said City, this 18th Day of June, 1746.

The following Address of the Mayor, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Kellington, in the County of Cornwall, has been presented to his Majesty by Thomas Copleston, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl Paulet, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Borough of Kellington, in the County of Cornwall.

PERmit us again, most gracious Sovereign, to approach your Royal Presence, with a Renewal of the most cordial and sincere Professions of our Duty, Loyalty and Affection to your Majesty's Person and Government, and most humbly to offer our Congratulations (with the rest of your faithful Subjects) on the late great and happy Event of the Demolition of the Rebels, by the signal Victory obtained over them in Scotland, from the known Valour of your Majesty's British Troops, and which must always be so, in the most eminent Degree, when inspir'd and led on to Glory by your Majesty's Son the Duke of Cumberland; a Prince, whose distinguish'd Courage, Humanity, Conduct, and good Sense, hath rendered him the Admiration of the Age, and Praises from our very Enemies. But such exalted Merit seems to be inherent in your august House, when we consider (after so many Years Experience of your Majesty's, as well as your Royal Father's Wisdom and Valour) from whence he is descended; and the many brave and valiant Men from the same great Stock, in former Ages, may be deemed to be still a farther Confirmation thereof.

The manifest Consequence of this Success hath been the Preservation of our Religion, Laws and Liberties, in the Room of French Government, and arbitrary Power, accompanied with the worst of all Scourges, papal Tyranny.

There is a Sympathy in great Souls, even amongst generous Adversaries; and how much more so, when in the same Family, or amongst those pursuing the same glorious Cause, the Liberties and Happiness of Mankind. It is from hence (if possible) this brave young Hero grows more and more endear'd to his Royal Father; it is from the same Impulse, that his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, with every Branch of the Royal Family, so truly rejoice and love him; and it is from a good and honest Principle, that every true Briton must always pray for your Majesty's long and happy Reign over us; and that there may be never wanting a Prince of your most illustrious House to sway the the Sceptre of those Realms till Time shall be no more.

These therefore are ever the most ardent Wishes of,

Great S I R,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Naples, July 12. By a Dispatch from the Secretary of State's Office, the King has nominated M. de la Vieu Ville Viceroy of Sicily, in the Room of Prince Corsini, who is to act however in that Character till that General can be conveniently relieved by a Successor to the Command of the King's Troops in Lombardy. On the 10th and 11th Instant anchored in this Port from Genoa, five Transport Vessels, with two Battalions out of the Foot Regiments La Reine and Royal Macedone, and a Squadron out of the King's Regiment of Horse, who were made Prisoners of War at Guastalla, and since exchanged. The said Transports have landed many Deserters out of the Austrian and Sardinian Troops, who have enlisted themselves in the King's Service.

Florence, July 19. The Genoese continue to make all possible Dispositions at the Spezia and Sarzana to defend those Places and their Confines, for which Purpose 1000 Men more were expected from Genoa as Yesterday. An Express arrived at the Spezia in the Night of the 17th, with Orders to distribute Arms to the Country People from 17 to 60 Years old, and to break the Roads on the Confines, and to double the Guards. The Bankers at Genoa had received Orders from Spain to remit very considerable Sums of Money to Venice. Belloni, the Banker at Rome, and others there, have received the same Orders, in Consequence of which, the 16th he remitted 50000 Crowns which makes it conjectured that Don Philip is to retire thither. The latest Letters from Lombardy bring us no Occurrences of any Moment. The Confederate Spanish, French, and Neapolitan Troops, continue in their former Position at Codogno, and in the Lodosan, having gathered up and introduced into Placentia all the Forage they could get. The Austrians continue to batter that Town, and have detached from the main Body of their Army two large Parties of their Troops, one to join the King of Sardinia, and the other, General Roth; it is thought, with a View to straighten the Army, and to bring them to an Action. The King of Sardinia was accordingly in Motion towards the River Trebia.

Venice, July 20. The Austrians are making Dispositions to attack the Spaniards, and dislodge them from the Lodosan, which, by Advices of a very fresh Date, will be attempted very soon, so that we are hourly in Expectation of hearing News of an Action. They continue still to bombard Placentia; the negligent Manner in which they buried the Dead, occasions such a Stench that they are apprehensive of very bad consequences from it. A Distemper begins to make great Havock in the City, insomuch that most of the principal Inhabitants have abandon'd it, and are returned to Crema. Don Philip is at Codogno, in a Palace of Prince Trivulci's; at Lodi Quarrels between the French and Spaniards have been so frequent and violent, that to prevent farther Mischiefe the Generals have caused an Order to be fixed upon the City Gates, forbidding the two Nations to meet together upon Pain of Death. General Pignatelli is with a Detachment of 7000 Men at St Francesco, and began the 16th to batter the Ghierra di Pizzighitone; as the Enemy has only five Cannon mounted, the Garrison despise the Attempt, and look upon it as a Feint to cover some other Purpose. General Roth, who commands upon the Adda and Pizzighitone, has a Corps of 12 Battalions, a Regiment of Cuirassiers, a Regiment of Dragoons, and one of Hussars. A large Sum of Money has been lately remitted by the Bankers here to the Spanish Army.

Edinburgh, July 27. We have Intelligence, that on Wednesday Sen'night the Pretender's Son got over the Hill of Morar, in Lochabar, where he was receiv'd by Lochgerrie with 80 Men in Arms, who conducted him into Badenoch. Orders are sent for preserving a strict Embargo along the Coast, and for seizing and securing every where all suspected Persons.

London, July 2, 1746.

General Post Office.

Whereas the Post Boy, bringing the Chester Mail from Fenny Stratford to Dunstable, was Yesterday, the 1st Instant, about Eleven of the Clock at Night, attacked on the Highway, near a Place called Hockliffe, otherwise Hockley, in the County of Bedford, by a single Highwayman, who carried off the following Bags, viz. Warrington, Ormskirk, Wigan, Chester, Wrexham, Coventry, Litchfield, Tamworth, Burton, Uttoxeter, Stafford, Stone, Holmes Chappel, Marclesfield, Stockport, Drayton, Ruthin, North p, Conway, Shrewsbury, and Oswestry. The Person who committed this Robbery, is a middle-siz'd Man, and had on a light brown colour'd loose Ho'sman's Coat, his Face cover'd with the Cape of his Coat, and rode on a dark bay Mare, with a bald Face, and white Legs behind, and made off towards Woburne.

This therefore is to give Notice, that whosoever shall apprehend and convict, or cause to be apprehended and convicted, the Person who committed this Robbery, will be intitled to a Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, over and above the Reward given by Act of Parliament for apprehending of Highwaymen: Or if any Person or Person, whether Accomplish'd in the said Robbery, or knowing thereof, shall make Discovery, whereby the Person who committed the same, may be apprehended and brought to Justice, such Discoverer or Discoverers will, upon Conviction of the Party, be intitled to the same Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, and also have his Majesty's most gracious Pardon.

By Command of the Post-Master-General,
George Shelvocke, Secretary.
