

Hague, June 5, N. S. Yesterday arrived here Solomon Dayrolle, Esq; his Britannick Majesty's Resident to their High Mightinesses the States General of the United Provinces; and this Morning he was introduced by the Earl of Sandwich to the President of the Week, to whom he deliver'd his Credentials.

Hague, June 5, N. S. We learn from Brussels, that the French King arrived in that Town on Wednesday Night; that his Quarters were marked out at the Abby of the Park near Louvain, but on Sunday Night he had not left Brussels. M. de Lowendahl was gone to Antwerp, and M. de Saxe to Mechlin, from whence he comes every Day to Brussels to make his Report. By Letters from Paris of the 2d Instant they had Advice, that Marshal de Belleisle was arrived at his Quarters at Cannes the 22d of May; that Dispositions were making to assemble the Army; and that the Chevalier de Belleisle was to have the Command of a separate Corps. It was reported at Paris, upon the Arrival of a Messenger from Provence, that the French had taken St. Honorat, and were besieging St. Marguerite. They had no News from Genoa; but the Letters from Turin of the 18th, and those from Genoa of the 21st, represent that City as in the greatest Distress imaginable.

Head Quarters at Bouwel, June 6, N. S.

The Enemy have been in Motion for some Days past, and have a great Part of their Force already encamped from Mechlin along the Dyle; five or six Brigades of Infantry are encamped to sustain the Works at Ponte de Walem, and as yet they keep 15 or 16 Battalions in the Town of Antwerp. The French King has not as yet left Brussels, and when he does, it is thought he will not take his Quarters at Mechlin, as too much exposed, but will be either at Louvain, or the Castle of Grimberghen. Marshal Saxe goes every Day to Brussels to make his Report to the King of what passes.

The Corps under the Command of the Comte de Clermont, which has been for some Time past about Namur, and was imagined to be destined for the Siege of Maestricht, has, upon the Arrival of the French King, made a Motion to their Left, and encamped the 4th Instant at Louvain, so that he fronts at present towards the Demar; but he will not long, it is said, keep that Position, but will move nearer the Right of their main Army.

Major General Feuerstein joined the Allied Army last Night, with a large Train of Austrian Artillery, and 2000 Recruits for the Imperial Troops.

The whole Army was under Arms the 4th at Night, on Occasion of the Victory gained over the French Fleet by Admiral Anson. The Artillery gave three Salvoes, which were followed by a Running Fire of the whole Infantry and Cavalry.

Hague, June 8, N. S. Our Letters from Brussels say, that the French King's Departure from thence was not yet fixed. M. de Clermont had joined Marshal de Saxe's Army, as had also a Corps from Flanders. By Letters from Paris, of the 5th Instant, we have account of a Sally made from Genoa by the Count of Boufflers, at the Head of 8000 Men, the Success of which is differently talk'd of; but upon the Whole it seems, that after having been themselves at first repulsed, the Austrians had drove back the Garrison into the Town. This is confirmed by the short and undistinct Account that the Paris Gazette, and private Letters from Genoa itself, give of this Affair. Marshal de Belleisle was assembling his Army, and would, it was said, attempt the Passing the Var about the 6th Instant. The Islands of Honorat and St. Marguerite have surrendered, and the Garrisons are Prisoners of War. Several People are taken up here upon Suspicion, and a strict Search is making after those that had secret Correspondences to the Disadvantage of the State. Lord Sandwich set out this Evening for Flushing, where his Lordship intends to embark for England on board one of his Britannick Majesty's Ships. M. Van Hoey arrived here this Morning from Paris.
