Naples, May 27, N. S.

THE Barbary Pirates still continue to Infest the Seas of Sicily; three of the largest of them have made several Captures in Sight of Palermo, and others are actually cruizing off Trapani, which puts the whole Kingdom to an Alarm, lest they should attempt a Descent upon that Coast. The Magistrate of Health, notwithstanding the Sollicitations from that of Venice, to concur in their Measure to subject all Vessels to 20 Days Quarantine, which should come from any Ports in the Mediterranean to those of the Two Sicilies, has declined to adhere thereto, till the Determination of the Deputation of Health at Rome is known.

Rome, May 31, N. S. Last Week M. Lepri, a Banker in this City, broke for a large Sum of Money, which occasions great Confusion amongst the Bankers at Venice, Naples, and other principal Cities of Italy. On the 27th in the Afternoon, the Pope, attended by his Retinue and Guards, set out from this City for Castle Candolfo, where he proposes to pass some Weeks for the Benefit of the Air.
