

*This Day is published,
The Third Number of*

THE New Critical, Biographical, and Geographical HISTORY of SCOTLAND; containing several curious and new Observations relating to the Settlement of the Succession to the Crown by Robert the Second.

The two former Numbers with this may be had from the Author, by applying to Robert Sayer, at his Printshop, the Golden Buck in Fleet-street.

The sole Property of this Work being vested in the Author, no Numbers, Heads, or Maps, are to be sold or delivered, but such as are either deliver'd or order'd by the Author.

Booksellers, News Carriers, and others, are to be supply'd by the Author, leaving their Directions and Orders at the Golden Buck in Fleet-street, and in no other Way.

As this Book, Heads, and Maps, are all enter'd in Stationers Hall, and other legal Methods taken to secure the Property, whoever vends or pirates any Part of the Work, shall be prosecuted with the utmost Rigour of Law, to check such low and unfair Practices.

The Head of Robert Bruce being punctually promis'd with the first Number, was deliver'd; but as it was not so complete, Mr. Boitard has now finish'd it, and hopes the Prints to be cast off from the Plate will meet with the Approbation of the Publick; and he will use his Endeavours to make the other Heads answerable.
