Lisbon, March 12.

THE Court is still at Salvaterra, and it is generally believed will not return to this City till towards the End of this Month. 'Tis said that a numerous Promotion of Land and Sea Officers will soon be made; and 'tis likewise said, that some new Ordonnances, greatly in Favour of the Commerce of this Kingdom, will be published soon after the Return of the Court. Count Stahrenberg, having finished the Commission he came hither to execute on the Part of their Imperial Majesties, is preparing to set out on his Return to Vienna. A general Review of the Troops of this Kingdom being to be made the latter End of next Month, or the Beginning of May, all the Officers are successively setting out from hence for their respective Regiments. We are in daily Expectation of the Arrival in this Port of several Ships richly laden from the Indies.

Lucca, March 23. The Accommodation of the Differences which have subsisted for some Time between this Republick and the Regency of the Grand-Dutchy of Tuscany, in relation to the new Roads we had begun to make in the Mountains of Grafignana, having been left to the Arbitration of the Court of Vienna, we are in daily Expectation of hearing the News of the Decision of that Affair, which we have great Reason to believe will be in our Favour.

Turin, March 24. The King and all the Royal Family continue to enjoy perfect Health, and the Dutchess of Savoy advances happily in her Pregnancy. Count Colloredo, Envoy Extraordinary from their Imperial Majesties to this Court, having had his Audiences of Leave last Week, set out Post Yesterday for Vienna.

Petersbourg, March 26. General Lieven is for the present appointed Commander of the Troops assembled in the conquered Provinces. An Officer is arrived here from Cronstadt with Advice, that the Fleet of this Empire is ready to put to Sea upon the first Notice.

Venice, March 26. The Court of Vienna having entirely agreed to the Alterations made here in some of the Articles for settling the Affair of Aquileja, the Senate has sent Orders to M. Tron, the Republick's Ambassador at Vienna, to conclude the Treaty.

Milan, March 30. Count Colloredo, whom their Imperial Majesties have recalled from his Embassy at the Court of Turin, and appointed Commander of the Imperial Troops in Lombardy, is arrived here on his Way to Vienna, from whence 'tis expected he will soon return hither, in order to take upon him that Employment; and the Great Chancellor Count Christiani is ordered to repair to the Court of the King of Sardinia, to take Care of the Affairs of their Imperial Majesties at that Court in his Room. The Report lately spread, that the Troops in this Dutchy were to form a Camp this Summer, appears to have no Foundation, at least no Preparations of any Kind are as yet making for it. We learn by Letters from Venice, that as the Corsairs of Barbary continue very much to infest their Coast, and greatly interrupt their Commerce, it had been resolved to augment considerably the Maritime Forces of that Republick, to the End that they may soon be in a Condition of forming a sufficient Squadron of Ships and Vessels to protect their Trade, and give Chace to those Corsairs.

Warsaw, April 3. The Waters of the Vistula, which had overflowed a great Part of the Country in the Neighbourhood of this City, and thereby done great Damage, are at length greatly abated, and we hope will now soon be all gone off again. We have received Advice, that Prince Leon of Radzivil, Great Cup-Bearer of the Dutchy of Lithuania, died a few Days ago at his Country Seat of an Apoplectick Fit. The Tribunal of Petrikau continues its Sessions with great Success under the Direction of M. de Czarnolowsky, who presides there in the Absence of the Marshal of the Crown.
