Whitehall, June 18, 1751.

Whereas it has been represented to the King, That on the 11th Instant, at Night, Mr. William Fargues was robbed, and cruelly murdered, by Persons unknown, in the Passage between the Barking Dogs, and Windmill Hill, in the Parish of Saint Luke, in the County of Middlesex; His Majesty, for the better Discovery of the Persons concerned in the said Robbery, and Murder; is pleased to promise his most gracious Pardon to any one of them (except the Person who actually committed the Murder) that shall discover his Accomplite, or Accomplices, so that he, she, or they, may be apprehended and convicted thereof,

HOLLES NEWCASTLE.

Whitehall, June 22, 1751.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to his Majesty, that, in the Night of the 10th of this Instant June, some ill-disposed Persons committed several Outrages, and Acts of Violence, at the House, and in the Grounds, of the Reverend Mr. Trevigar, Rector of Herstmonceux, in the County of Sussex, by forcibly wresting off the Foregate of the Court, at the Entrance of his Dwelling-house, and throwing the same into a Well; by opening the Gates, Bars, and Fences, of his adjoining Land, and thereby willfully letting his Horses and Cattle, into standing Corn, and Meadows; by breaking, and destroying, the Windows of his Cold Bath, and a considerable Number of young Trees, planted near the same; by breaking and opening the Penstocks, and Sluices, of his Ponds, and Stews, made for the preserving and keeping of Fish, and letting out the same: His Majesty, for the better discovering, and bringing to Justice, the Persons concerned in committing the said Acts of Violence and Outrage, is pleased to promise his most gracious Pardon to any one of them (except the principal Contriver and Promoter thereof) who shall discover one or more Accomplite, or Accomplices, in the said Facts, so that he, she, or they, may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

HOLLES NEWCASTLE.

And for the better discovering, and bringing to Justice, the Person or Persons concerned in the above-mentioned Facts; the said Mr. Trevigar does hereby promise a Reward of Ten Guineas to any one of them (except the principal Contriver and Promoter thereof) who shall discover any one or more Accomplite, or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they, may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

George Shelvocke, Secretary.

April 19, 1751.
General Post Office.

Whereas the Post-Boy bringing the Cirencester Mail to this Office, was Yesterday Morning, between Two and Three of the Clock, on Gerrard's Cross Common, between Wickham and Uxbridge, attacked and robbed by a single Highwayman, mounted on a Bay Mare, who carried off the said Mail, which contained the following Bags of Letters, viz.

Briffol,	Worcester,
Exeter,	Birmingham,
Tiverton,	Wolverhampton,
Taunton,	Woodstock,
Wellington,	Bath,
Bridgewater,	Cirencester,
Wells,	Gloucester,
Oxford,	Thame,
Burford,	Wickham,
Witney,	Beaconsfield,
Chipping-norton,	Gerrard's Cross,
Campden,	Abingdon, and
Evesham,	Farringdon.

The Person who committed this Robbery, was a tall lusty black Man, about Six Feet high, between Forty and Fifty Years of Age, marked with the Small Pox, and had on a blue Surtout or Horseman's Coat, and under it a dark coloured one, with white Metal Buttons, and wore a black or dark coloured Wig, and rode upon a large Brown Bay Horse or Mare, Fifteen Hands high, with a bald Face, and a dark black Mane, the Tail lately docked and nicked, the Wounds not healed.

This therefore is to give Notice, That whoever shall apprehend and convict, or cause to be apprehended and convicted, the Person who committed this Robbery, will be intitled to a Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, over and above the Reward given by Act of Parliament for apprehending of Highwaymen: Or if any Person or Persons, whether Accomplite in the said Robbery, or knowing thereof, shall make Discovery, whereby the Person, who committed the same, may be apprehended and brought to Justice, such Discoverer or Discoverers will, upon Conviction of the Party, be intitled to the same Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, and also have His Majesty's most gracious Pardon.

By Command of the Post Master-General,
George Shelvocke, Secretary.
