My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE many eminent Proofs which you have given of your Duty and Affection to my Person and Government, during the Course of this Session of Parliament, have afforded me the greatest Satisfaction; and the Zeal you have shewn for supporting the Honour, Rights, and Possessions of my Crown, has been no less agreeable to me.

My Desire to preserve the Publick Tranquillity has been sincere and uniform. I have religiously adhered to the Stipulations of the Treaty of Aix la Chapelle; and made it my Care, not to injure, or give just Cause of Offence to, any Power whatsoever. But I never could entertain a Thought of purchasing the Name of Peace, at the Expence of suffering Encroachments upon, or of yielding up, what is justly belonging to Great Britain, either by ancient Possession, or by solemn Treaties. Your Vigour and Firmness, on this important Occasion, have enabled me to be prepared for such Contingencies as may happen. If reasonable and honourable Terms of Accommodation can be agreed upon, I shall be satisfied. In all Events, I shall rely on the Justice of our Cause, the effectual Support of my People, and the Protection of the Divine Providence.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I return you my Thanks for the necessary Provisions you have made for the Service of the current Year. The extraordinary Supply which you have granted me, towards augmenting my Forces by Sea and Land, is such a Proof of your Confidence in me, and of your constant Attention to the Service of your Country, that I cannot sufficiently express the Satisfaction I take, in this seasonable Care of the Safety of my Kingdoms and Dominions; or in the Evidence it has produced, of the Extent of our Publick Credit, and of the Zeal of my Subjects, in this Conjunction.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I have nothing to desire of you, but steadily to pursue those good Principles, which you have so solemnly professed to me, and, with so much Honour to yourselves, adhered to. Let it be your Endeavour to maintain Tranquillity and good Order in your several Countries, and to cultivate in my good Subjects just Notions of my Government and Measures, which are, and shall always be, directed to their Happiness and Prosperity.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majesty's Command, said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is His Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, That this Parliament be prorogued to Tuesday the Twenty Seventh Day of May next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the Twenty Seventh Day of May next.

AT the Court at St. James's the 27th Day of March, 1755.

The King's most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas His Majesty was graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Eleventh Day of this Instant March, to promise and declare, (amongst other Things) that the Bounties of three Pounds for every Able Seaman, of Forty Shillings for every Ordinary Seaman, and of Twenty Shillings for every Able-bodied Landman, should be paid to every such Seaman and Landman respectively, who should, on or before the Thirty-first Day of this Instant, voluntarily Enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy; and that a Reward of Two Pounds should be also paid to any Person who should, on or before the said Thirty-first Day of this Instant, discover any Seaman, or Seamen, who should conceal themselves, so that such Seaman or Seamen should be taken for His Majesty's said Service—And whereas the Time thereby limited for paying the said Bounties and Rewards is now near expiring; and it being judged expedient for His Majesty's Service, that the same should be continued for some longer Time: His Majesty, with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore Order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, That the Time limited by the said Proclamation for Payment of the said Bounties and Rewards, be prolonged and extended from the said Thirty-first Day of this Instant March, to the Thirtieth Day of April next, inclusive—Whereof all Persons concerned are to take Notice and govern themselves accordingly.

General Post-Office, April 22, 1755.

Whereas the Post-Boy, carrying the Derby Mail, that was dispatched from this Office on Saturday the 19th Instant, was attack'd between Market Harborough and Kibworth, on Sunday Night the 20th Instant, about Eleven o'Clock, by two Men on Foot, who seized on his Horse's Bridle, and led him to an Hedge about one hundred Yards distant from the Road, where they took off, and rifled the Mail, and took out and carried off the following Bags, viz.

Leicester,	Nottingham,
Loughborough,	Derby and Ashbourn.

The Boy saith, one of the Robbers was a middle-sized thin Man, and the other a fat jolly tall Man: The middle sized Man had on a light colour'd Coat, and wore his own Hair, which was black, and Part of it platted and pulled over his Face, and his Hat slouched before, and was seemingly a genteel Man. The fat jolly tall Man had on a grey Wigg and Snuff colour'd Coat, and his Hat slouched before. After the Robbery they immediately mounted their Horses, which were tied to the above-mentioned Hedge, and rode with full Speed towards Harborough. The Boy adds, that one of the Horses was of a grey Colour, and the other a darkish Colour.

This is therefore to give Notice, that whosoever shall apprehend and convict, or cause to be apprehended and convicted, both or either of them who committed this Robbery, will be entitled to a Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, over and above the Reward given by Act of Parliament for apprehending Highwaymen, or if any Person or Persons, whether Accomplice, or knowing of this Robbery, shall make Discovery whereby either or both of the Persons, who committed the same, may be apprehended and brought to Justice, such Discoverer or Discoverers will, upon Conviction of either or both of the said Robbers, be entitled to the same Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, and also have His Majesty's most Gracious Pardon.

By Command of the Post Master General,
George Shelvocke, Secretary.
