P R E S E N T,

Naples, April 19. Advice having been received at Court, that the Barbary Pyrates are cruizing in great Numbers in the Seas of Apulia, and that they have taken several Barks, Fishing Boats, and other small Craft, Orders are sent to Don Joseph Martinez, Commander of the King's Chebecks, to sail immediately in Quest of them. They are now at Work in this Port, in equipping an armed Vessel and a Frigate that are to be employed in protecting the Navigation of these Seas.

Genoa, April 28. By Letters of the 17th Instant from Bastia, the Chiefs of the Malecontents were to hold a General Congress of their Partizans in a few Days. A Filucca from Port Longone lately landed in Corsica one De Paoli, Brother to one of the Chiefs of the Malecontents, and an Officer in the Service of the King of Naples. The Rebels were advanced near to Fiumorbo, with a Design to make themselves Masters of the Estates called the Procoi, belonging to the Families Spinola and Fieschi of this

{Price Eight-Pence.}

Place. The frequent Marches in large Parties occasioned some Uneasiness to the Government of Bastia, and proper Measures were taking to frustrate any Designs which they might have against the Tocou. The Barbary Corsairs continue to infest this Coast, and have visited an English and a Swedish Ship who arrived this Week from Ancona, and have made some Prizes of small Vessels. Yesterday arrived his Britannick Majesty's Ship the Dolphin in thirteen Days from Marseilles.

Leghorn, May 2. Yesterday arrived the Conquest, Captain Pollard, in eight Days from Valencia, who brings Advice, that on the 21st of April five Spanish Chebecks fell in with three Algerines near Alicant, and after an Engagement of sixteen Hours, sunk the Algerines, whose Crews consisted of 1057 Men in all, of which 570 were taken up by the Spaniards; amongst them is the famous Cruiser Archimura, said to be Brother to the present Bey of Algiers. We have Letters from Algiers of the 26th of April, when they had carried in only one Dutch Ship, i. e. the Princess Dowager of Orange, Adrianus Vanderham, Master. Two Spanish Ships of War have retaken the Daniel, Dirk Dirksen, Master, belonging to Amsterdam, and carried her into Carthagina. The Genoese Commissary at Bastia has lately been a little alarmed, by Reason of the Peasants in the neighbouring Villages having assembled under Arms, but 'tis thought they have no other Intentions than collecting the Contributions from the several Districts as they have often done.

Brussels, May 16. The Drawing of the Second Class of the Brussels Lottery began on Monday, and ended on Wednesday last.
