

nies. The Gardens have likewise suffered greatly on this Occasion.

Hamburg, March 2. Prince George of Holstein, Major General in the King of Prussia's Service; having made some Stay here, and at Eutin with his Brother the Bishop of Lubeck, set out the Day before Yesterday on his Return to his Regiment, which is quartered at Riesen-berg near Dantzick; the Prince takes Berlin in his Way, where he purposes to pass a few Days.

Brussels, March 9. A Battalion of the Regiment of Rouergue set out on the 23d of February from Thionville for Normandy, and was replaced on the 28th by a Battalion of Militia. A Battalion of Royal Artillery marched on the 26th of the same Month from Metz, with several Waggons loaded with Field Artillery and Military Stores, and after joining another Train of the same Sort which is coming from Strasbourg, is to continue its March towards Normandy: We learn also, that the Regiment d'Enghien took the same Route on the 29th, and is to be followed by the Regiments of Champagne and Normandie about the 25th Instant: We are moreover assured, that the Regiments of Clare and Berwick, which were in Garrison at St. Omer, received Orders on the 24th of last Month, to march directly towards Cherbourg, where they are to be embarked. The Duke of St. Albans, and several others of his Britannick Majesty's Subjects, are arrived here from France, in Consequence of the Orders issued by the French Court, for them to quit Paris by the 1st Instant, and the Kingdom by the 15th.

Admiralty Office, March 13, 1756.

WHEREAS the King has been pleased, by His Order in Council, to direct the Embargo to be taken off from all Coasting Vessels (except Colliers) which go from Port to Port; and likewise from all Fishing Vessels, and other small Craft, which ply in the Rivers, Bays, or Creeks, of this Kingdom; and also from all Ships and Vessels bound to the Greenland Seas for Fishing; my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty do hereby give Notice, that they have countermanded their late Orders, for pressing from Protections, so far as the same respect the Crews of any of the said Ships, Vessels, Smacks, or Craft; and that the Protections, which were granted for any of them before the late general Press, are to be valid, and continue in Force for the full Times specified in such Protections respectively: And as any other Ships or Vessels shall be cleared from the Embargo, the like Regard is to be had to their Protections, and no Men are to be pressed therefrom.

J. Cleveland.

Whitehall, March 13, 1756.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, that in the Night between the 24th and 25th of February last, the Dwelling House of Mr. Godfrey Heathcote, of Chesterfield in the County of Derby, Attorney at Law, was broke open and entered, the Door of a Press forced, and the Lock broke off, his Desks rummaged, his Writings and Papers rifled; and an Attempt was likewise made the same Night, to break open two other Houses in the said Town of Chesterfield: His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Person or Persons concerned in breaking open and attempting to break open the said Houses, is pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any Person concerned therein, who shall discover his, her, or their Accomplice or Accomplices, so as he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

H. FOX.

And as a farther Encouragement, I Godfrey Heathcote, of Chesterfield aforesaid, do hereby promise a Reward of Twenty Pounds, over and above the Reward allowed by Act of Parliament, to any Person making such Discovery, so as his, her, or their Accomplice or Accomplices be apprehended and convicted thereof.

Godf. Heathcote.
