THE following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Citizens of the City of Limerick, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to the Right Honourable Henry Fox, Esq; one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Citizens of the City of Limerick, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs and Citizens of the City of Limerick, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave most humbly to express to your Majesty our utmost Detestation of the desperate Designs of a Foreign and Arbitrary Court, to disturb your free Government, and the happy Tranquility of this Country.

The Success which has hitherto attended your Majesty's superiour Wisdom, Courage and Steadiness, in frustrating all the Attempts of the Enemies to your Glory, and to the Prosperity of your People, and the known Zeal, Vigilance and Æquanimity of his Grace the Lord Lieutenant of this Kingdom, animate us with a well grounded Confidence, that those Virtues will protect us against the late insolent Project of an Invasion.

But if it should please the Divine Providence to try us with such a Calamity; we have so deep a Sense of the inestimable Value, as well of the Religious and Civil Liberties, as of the many other Blessings which we enjoy by your Majesty's most mild and auspicious Reign, that we beg Leave humbly to assure you, we will, with the greatest Alacrity, hazard our Lives and Fortunes in Defence of your undoubted Rights, as a Tribute of Gratitude which we owe to your Majesty, and as the only Means of securing the Succession of our present Happiness to our Posterity, under your Royal House.

In Testimony whereof, we have caused the Common Seal of this City to be hereunto affixed, the Twenty-seventh Day of April, in the Year of our Lord, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Six.

The following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Burgeses and Commons of the County of the Town of Drogheda, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to the Right Honourable Henry Fox, Esq; one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Burgeses and Commons of the County of the Town of Drogheda, in Common Council assembled.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave, at this critical Conjunction, to approach your Throne, and to express our Resentment at the Indignity offered to your Majesty by the insolent Attempts of a neighbouring faithless Power.

As this rash Enterprize must be the Object of your Majesty's Contempt, it can serve to no other End than firmly to unite all your Majesty's Subjects in Defence of your Majesty, and the Civil and Religious Rights of a free People, whereof your Majesty has been the great and good Guardian.

Duty, Gratitude and Affection to your Majesty, Regard to ourselves and Posterity, and every Motive that is interesting, call upon us, on this important Occasion, to exert our utmost Endeavours to the defeating of your Majesty's Enemies.

May the Divine Providence, which has so often interposed in Favour of our Religion and Liberties, give to your Majesty's Arms Victory and Success, and preserve to us the Blessings of your Majesty's Government, and the Succession of it in your Royal Line.

In Testimony whereof, we have hereunto affixed our Common Seal, the Thirtieth Day of April, in the Year of our Lord, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Six.
