On the 2d, a great Number of Horfes for remounting the Cavalry arrived at the Camp, and a greater Number is expected, his Excellency the Commander in Chief having fent the Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment of Emanuel Kolowrath's Dragoons, M. de Koki, to teceive them at Tomethau.

The 3d, on the Advices which his Excellency received, of the Entry of a confiderable Body of Pruffians into Saxony, Major General Count Wied was detached with 3000 Grenadiers, Horfe and Foot, 6 Pieces of Cannon, and a Detachment of Huffars; but the Defination of this Corps is not known.

On the 6th, Major General Baron Kroftendorf Ule of the A arrived here from Styria, as alfo General Count Count O'Don Quafco, who is appointed Quarter Mafter-G2neral of the Army.

[Price Four-Pence.]

On the 7th, Prince Lowenstein was fent from hence with one Thousand Horse, composed of Carbineers and other Detachments drawn from the several Regiments, having under his Orders Baron Kolbe, Colonel of his Royal Highness the Arch Duke Ferdinand's Regiment. The Army has received Orders to hold itself in Readiness to march.

All thefe Troops are on full March to join the Army forthwith. Our Advices from Saxony mention, that the Saxon Troops remain still in the Camp at Pirna, waiting to see what will be the Confequence of the Prussian Troops entering Saxony.

Dresden, Sept. 19. His Polish Majesty continues with the two Princes in the Camp; and her Majefty, the Electoral Prince and Princefs, and the rest of the Royal Family, are here in good Health. His Pruffian Majefty's Headquarters are still at Seidlitz ; his Army incamp. ing from thence up to the Frontiers of Bohemia. The Situation of the Saxon Camp, which makes it almost impregnable, is as follows, viz. The Plain between Pirna and Koenigstein, where the Saxon Camp is pitched, is a continued Rock, with a Declivity down to the Elbe on one Side, and into a Valley on the other. This Declivity ends on one Side of Koenigstein, from whence begins a thick Foreft, in which the Saxons have cut down Trees, and barricaded themselves. On this Side of Pirna is a narrow Paffage, where, as well as in the Town itfelf, they have made Intrenchments, and have raifed, in and about their Camp, near 60 Redoubts, which are provided with a great Number of Cannon. Though the Saxon Camp is fo well fituated, it is faid they are in Want of Water, Provisions, and Forage. A Skirmish happened on Monday last, the 13th Inftant, between a Party of Auftrian Huffars, supported by a Battalion of Grenadiers (that were to efcort feveral Waggons loaded with Provisions from Bohemia, for the Saxon Camp) and a Detachment of Pruffian Huffars. The latter attacked the Auftrians, put them to the Rout, and made fixteen Prifoners. Eight Waggons, however, attained the Camp, but the rest fell into the Hands of the Pruffians. On the 17th Inftant another Skirmish happened, of which the Particulars are not yet known. The Saxon Army has been obliged to fwear Alle-giance three Times to their Sovereign, fince their Incampment, notwithstanding which they defert in Numbers. The Magazines here are filled with an immense Quantity of Provision and Forage for the Pruffian Army. Belides the Bread the Bakers in this City are ordered to make from the Flower delivered to them, the Pruffians have erected thirty Ovens near the Elbe, in which they bake Day and Night.
