From Tuesday October 26, to Saturday October 30, 1756.

AT the Court at Kensington, the 29th Day of October, 1756.

The King's most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HIS Majesty in Council was this Day pleased to Order, that the Parliament which was to meet on Thursday the Eighteenth Day of November next, should be prorogued to Thursday the Second Day of December following.—And that the Right Honourable the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain should cause a Commission to be prepared in the usual Manner, for proroguing the Parliament accordingly.

WHEREAS, in Pursuance of His Majesty's Commands, an Embargo was some Time since laid upon all Ships and Vessels laden with Beef, Pork, and Butter, going from any of the Ports of His Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland, which Embargo is at this Time subsisting—And whereas it hath been represented to His Majesty at this Board, by the Merchants and Traders of the City of Cork, that the prohibiting the Exportation of Butter must inevitably be attended with the most fatal Consequences; His Majesty this Day took the same into His Royal Consideration, and is hereby pleased, with the Advice of his Privy Council, to Order, that the said Embargo, as far as relates to Butter, be taken off from all Ships and Vessels, and that they be permitted to proceed on their respective Voyages.—And his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of His Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland, is to give the necessary Directions herein accordingly.

W. Blair.

Vienne, Oct. 16. Yesterday, being the Emperor's Name Day, it was celebrated at Schonbrunn as usual; there was a numerous Court in the Morning, and their Imperial Majesties dined in Publick with the three eldest Archdukes, and two eldest Archduchesses, the Pope's Nuncio, and the two Cardinals, attending; after which the Cardinals, Ambassadors, Foreign Ministers, and principal Nobility of both Sexes, dined at a publick Table prepared for them; and, in the Evening, there was a drawing Room, and the French Theatre in this City was magnificently illuminated, and a fine Concerto given in it. It appears by some Lists handed about in Town, that the Number of Austrians killed in the late Action near Lowoschutz in Bohemia, amounts to 3008 Men, including the Officers, of whom 18 were killed on the Spot, and 95 wounded.

Dresden, Oct. 20. The Saxons remain'd in the Camp of Pirna till the Night between the 12th and 13th, when the whole Army passed the Elbe, on a Bridge of Boats, under the Cannon of Konigstein; but the Bridge broke before the Baggage was all got over, and the Prussian Hussars have plundered a Part of it. The Saxons then took Possession of a new Camp in a narrow Plain, shelving towards the River, which lies directly opposite to Konigstein, and is bounded on one Side by the Banks of the Elbe, which are very steep and rocky, and on the other, by a very high Rock called the Lillienstein, which again is surrounded with other high Rocks and Ravines, having at one End of it a deep Wood, and at the other a Road towards Waltersdorff, of difficult Access at all Times, but then rendered almost impracticable by the Prussians. In this Situation, shut up on all Sides, the Saxon Army continued from Wednesday to Friday, when they began to capitulate, but they marched out of their Camp only on Sunday Morning. Bread was sent to the Soldiers as soon as the Capitulation was agreed upon.

Marshal Brown came to Mitteldorff near Schandau with about 8000 Men, in order to have forced the Passes that were defended by the Prussians under General Leistwitz, distant about one Mile from the second Saxon Camp; but as soon as the Prussians had Notice of his Approach, they reinforced the Party under General Leistwitz, and all their other Detachments on the other Side of the Elbe, so that Marshal Brown could do nothing; and in his Retreat the Prussian Hussars attacked his Rear Guard, and cut to Pieces two Companies of Grenadiers, and upwards of 150 Hussars.

On Sunday the 17th, the Saxons Troops, preceded by their General Officers, crossed the Elbe, at a Place called Raden, where the Prussians had a Bridge of Boats; from thence they marched into a Plain in the Neighbourhood, and, after passing between two Battalions of Prussian Guards, they were received by two Battalions of the Prince of Prussia's Regiment, drawn upon the Right and Left; they there formed a hollow Square, and had the Articles of War read, and the Military Oath administered to them. As there was but one Bridge laid over the River, and the Roads from the Saxon Camp were extremely bad; and as every Regiment took the Oath separately, this Ceremony lasted all that Day and the next. The Soldiers were all armed, but the Officers have refused to enter into the Prussian Service.

The whole Saxon Army consisted of 16,000, 3000 of which were Horse and Dragoons. The Soldiers are extremely well-looking, and mostly young Men, and do not seem to have suffered for Want of Provisions during the Blockade of five Weeks. The Cavalry is almost ruined.

The Convention and Capitulation, which His Prussian Majesty has made with the King of Poland, is said to be in Substance, 1. That the King of Poland yields his whole Army, in Saxony, to the King of Prussia: The Officers not to be compelled to serve against their Will. But the King of Poland to grant Dismission from his Service to such as shall ask it, who then shall be at Liberty to enter into the Prussian Service; and those who do not chuse to ask their Dismission, are to be incapable of serving during this War. The King of Poland is said to have given full Power to Count Rutowski, to grant such Dismissions to those Officers who apply for them; and, it is thought, that many of the Saxon Officers will accept of Service.

2. That the Garrison and Castle of Konigstein shall remain in the Hands of his Polish Majesty, he giving proper Assurances, that a perfect Neutrality shall be observed on his Part, and no Protection afforded from thence to the King of Prussia's Enemies, nor the free Navigation of the Elbe any Ways interrupted.

3. The King of Poland to be at Liberty to go where he pleases, and he has accordingly resolved to set out as this Day for Warsaw.

The King of Prussia sets out this Day with Part of his Army for Bohemia. The Army his Prussian Majesty leaves in Saxony, will return to their old Camp at Sedelitz, Brussels, Oct. 26. On Saturday last a Messenger arrived here from Vienna, since which Orders have been given to the Troops to hold themselves in Readiness to march on Sunday next, the 31st Instant, but their Route is not yet known. All the Staff Officers, belonging to the several Corps, are likewise ordered to march. The Body of Troops that is to take the Field, will consist of 24 Battalions, 20 Companies of Grenadiers, 1 Regiment of Cuirassiers, and one of Dragoons.

In the Press, and speedily will be published,

DR. JAMES'S Powder for FEVERS, and other Inflammatory Distempers, published by Virtue of His MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, will remove (as has been experienced in many-thousand Cases) any continual acute Fever in a few Hours, though attended with Convulsions, Light-headedness, and the worst Symptoms: But if taken in the Beginning of a Fever, one Dose is generally sufficient to perform a Cure.

It is likewise a most effectual Remedy for all internal Inflammation, Pleurifies, Quincies, acute Rheumatisms, and the Lowness of Spirits, and Uneasinesses proceeding from slow and latent Fevers, which are generally mistaken for Vapours and Hysterics; and a single Dose remarkably stops the Progress of a Cold, and certainly prevents the ill Consequences arising from that very common Disorder, the Source of almost all Distempers.

This Powder (which is a very safe and pleasant Medicine to take) is sold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, over-against the North Door of the Church, at 2s. 6d. the two Doses, with good Allowance to those who buy it for charitable Uses, or to sell again.
