Whitehall, September 9.

The King has been pleased to constitute and appoint the Right Honourable George Lord Abergavenny to be Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of and in the County of Suffex.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 10th Day of September, 1757,

The Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

His Majesty having been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable George Lord Abergavenny to be Lord Lieutenant of the County of Suffex, his Lordship this Day took the Oaths appointed to be taken thereupon, instead of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy.

From the Prussian Head Quarters at Bernstædel, Aug. 21. On the 15th the (Prussian) Army came in Sight of the Austrian Camp, and with-in Cannon-Shot. So soon as they perceived us, they struck their Tents, and drew up in Order of Battle at the Head of their Camp. The King formed his Army over-against them, and immediately went to reconnoitre the Ground between the Armies; but as it was then late, he deferred the more exact Examination of the Ground till next Day. The two Armies continued all Night under Arms.

On the 16th, at Day-Break, the King returned to reconnoitre the Situation of the Enemy with the utmost Exactness. He found them encamped with their Right at the River Neisse: The rest of their Army extended along a Height to a Mountain covered with Wood, which protected their Left. Before their Front, at the Foot of the Hill, on which they were drawn up, was a small Brook passable only in three different Places, and that for four or five Men a-breast.

Towards the Left of the Austrian Army, there was an Opening, where three or four Battalions might have marched in Front; but behind it they had placed three Lines of Infantry; and, on a Hill which flanked this Opening with-in Musket-Shot, were placed 4000 Foot, with 40 or 50 Pieces of Cannon; so that really this was the strongest Part of their Camp.

The King, to leave nothing undone that might might force the Austrians to a Battle, sent General Winterfeldt, with Part of the Army, to the other Side of the Neisse by the Bridge of Hirschfeld, to try to take them in Flank: But that being likewise found impossible, the Prussian Army, after lying four Days before the Enemy, returned, on the 20th, to their Camp at Bernstädel: They were followed by some Hussars and Pandours, who however had not the Satisfaction to take one single Pack-Horse in the Retreat.

The Austrians say, they are 130,000 Strong. Sure, they might have shewed a little more Manliness; for the King gave them the fairest Occasions. The Day he returned to Bernstädel, after he had retired about 2000 Yards, he drew up the Army in Line of Battle, and remained so upwards of an Hour: But not a Man stirred from the Austrian Camp.

Cologne, Aug. 26. On the 22d Gueldres was forced to capitulate for Want of Provisions, and the Troops that formed the Blockade took Possession of the Town the same Day.

Dresden, Aug. 26. Prince Maurice of Dessau continues with his Corps between Sedelitz, Zeitz and Pirna: He lately attacked the Pandours so suddenly, that they left their Tents standing. The Convoy with Provisions that went from hence last Sunday, is arrived in the Prussian Camp.

Dresden, Aug. 28. A great Number of Boats laden with Meal and Corn are arrived here within these few Days; they have disembarked all their lading, and it is already lodged in the Magazines here. The Magistrates of this Town have had Orders from the Commandant to prepare several Thousand Fathom of Fire Wood, for the Use of the Garrison here during the Winter. About 500 Waggons came in last Night from Lusatia with some sick and wounded Prussians, and some Austrian Prisoners, and they are to return this Day with Meal for the Prussian Camp.

Dresden, Aug. 29. Yesterday Morning, just as the Post was going off, a Courier arrived from the King of Prussia to the Commandant of this Town, to let him know, that his Majesty would come this Day to encamp here with 16 Battalions and 40 Squadrons. By all the Preparations made here, it is easy to see, that the King designs to maintain his Possession of this Place. The King and his Royal Highness Prince Henry are this Moment arrived here, and have taken their Quarters in a House just out of the Swarke Gate of the New Town.

Hamburg, Aug. 30. On the 28th Instant, his Britannick Majesty's Ship the Aldborough, Capt. Lynn, with the Trade from Hull for this Place and Bremen, arrived in the Elbe.

Head Quarters at Salsingen, Sept. 1. Yesterday Morning early the Army march'd from Rothenburg to Oldendorff in three Columns; that on the Right, composed of the Brunswick and Hessian Troops, under the Command of Lieutenant General Wutgenau; that on the Left, composed of seven Battalions of Grenadiers and three of the marching Regiments of the Right Wing, under the Command of General Zastrow; and the Centre Column, composed of the Hanoverian Infantry and Cavalry, was led by his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, being the nearest at Hand to any Thing that might happen: But the Enemy gave us no Interruption. This Day the Army march'd again in three Columns to this Place. The Enemy's advanced Corps, under the Command of M. de Chabot, who took Possession of Rothenburg, after we had quitted it, have this Day shewed themselves to the Rear Guard, but seem to intend nothing more than just to reconnoitre our March.

Hague, Sept. 6. His Prussian Majesty was to be at Leipzick with his Army on the 3d Instant, and it is thought will march forward to meet the Prince of Soubise, and the Army of the Empire, who may make together about 50000 Men at most, half of which are French. The French have taken Possession of the Town of Bremen.
