Hague, Nov. 25. Last Night we received an Account, that the Town of Schweidnitz, in Silesia, was taken on the 12th Instant, after a general Assault had been given the Day before, in which the Garrison behaved incomparably well; and the Governor only capitulated at Noon the next Day, behind the Entrenchments he had made upon the Great Market Place.

By our last Letters from Dresden, the King of Prussia arrived there on the 17th Instant, with ten Battalions. The Day before his Prussian Majesty arrived there, the Queen of Poland died suddenly of a Fit of an Apoplexy. The Execution-Army of the Empire (at least, as much as remains of it) is separated from the French, and retired towards Bamberg in Franconia.

St. James's, November 28.

This Day Major Grant, Aide de Camp to his Prussian Majesty, arrived from the Prussian Army in Saxony, with Letters to the King, which he had the Honour to deliver to His Majesty in a private Audience.
