

As Englishmen who love their Country, we cannot but feel the highest Satisfaction in seeing the Honour of the British Name so gloriously retrieved, and the Insolence of its Enemies so effectually and severely chastised.

With Heart felt Gratitude, we see ourselves, in the midst of a bloody and almost universal War, protected from the Horrors of it; our numerous Possessions are preserved and defended; and our Trade and Commerce supported and carried on as extensively as in Times of profound Peace: This great and happy Situation we owe to the Goodness and Protection of Almighty God, and to the great Wisdom of your Majesty.

And we trust with Confidence, that your Majesty will soon be enabled to give your Kingdoms the Blessings of a safe and honourable Peace.

May your Majesty long continue to reign with Glory over a happy, united and grateful People.

Given under our common Seal this 20th Day of September, 1758.

The following Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens, of the City of Dublin, has been transmitted to his Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens, of the City of Dublin, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of your City of Dublin, in Common Council assembled, do humbly beseech your Majesty to accept of their most sincere Congratulations upon the Success of your Arms against France, particularly in those signal Advantages gained over them in America; Advantages equally glorious to your Majesty in the attaining, as the Attainment is of Importance to your Subjects, and repressive of the Insolence of an ambitious, restless, and perfidious Enemy.

It is with the highest Pleasure and inward Satisfaction we can reflect that these Successes, great as they are confessed to be, are yet to be considered but as the Earnest of others still greater to be obtained; since the Causes to which, under God, they are only to be ascribed, are, your Majesty's distinguished Magnanimity, and your noble Intentions so truly directed to the Welfare of your People, animating their Love and Gratitude to unwearied Efforts, in the Support of your Measures, and at once inspiring Wisdom to your Councils, and Courage to your Commanders.

With these Sentiments our Expectations are well founded, as our Wishes are most ardent, that such will be the Event of this just and necessary War, in which your Majesty is engaged; that all Nations shall perceive, and Posterity be instructed, that the Prince who, like your Majefty, possesses the Hearts and intire Confidence of his People, and whose Royal Dispositions lead him to desire Conquest but for their Happiness and Security, will ever be by them enabled to conquer.

In Testimony whereof, we have caused the Common Seal of the said City to be hereto affixed, this Seventh Day of September, in the Year of our Lord, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Eight.

The following Address of the Bailiffs, Burgeses and Commonalty of the Borough of Tewkesbury in the County of Gloucester, having been transmitted by Henry Whitaker, Esq; their Town Clerk, to the Right Hon. Mr. Secretary Pitt, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Burgeses and Commonalty of the Borough of Tewkesbury in the County of Gloucester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgeses and Commonalty of the Borough of Tewkesbury in the County of Gloucester, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Throne, and to assure your Majesty, that we heartily join in the general Joy, which has been expressed on the Success of your Majesty's Arms at Cape Breton: A Conquest effected by the Influence of British Councils and Valour: Of the utmost Importance to the Trade of this Nation, and to the Security of your Majesty's Subjects in America.

We should be wanting in our Duty to your Majesty, if we did not, with unspeakable Joy, humbly offer our Congratulations to your Majesty on the Success of your Forces at Crevelt, and on the late signal Victory obtained by your Good and Great Ally the King of Prussia.

Permit us, most dread Sovereign, to assure you, that whatever Difficulties we may labour under, in supporting this just and necessary War, we will not entertain the remotest Wish for Peace, 'till those noble Purposes are obtained, for the Sake of which your Majesty unsheathed your Sword, and till your Majesty, in your Princely Wisdom, shall see the proper Time for prescribing the Terms of it.

That your Majesty's Councils and Arms may prevail to secure a solid and glorious Peace to Great Britain and to Europe in general: That your Majesty may pass your Days in Tranquility and Happiness, undisturbed by Contentions at Home, or War Abroad; and that the Sceptre of this Nation may continue in your August Family to the latest Posterity, are our most ardent Wishes.

In Testimony whereof, we, being assembled in Common-Council, have caused our Common Seal to be hereunto affixed, this Twentieth Day of September, in the Thirty Second Year of your Majesty's Reign.

Madrid,