

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council of the ancient Borough of Boston in the County of Lincoln, having been transmitted by John Michell, Esq; their Mayor, to the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Pitt, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council of the ancient Borough of Boston in the County of Lincoln.

Permit us, Most Gracious Sovereign, with all Humility, to approach your Royal Presence, to express our grateful Sense of your Majesty's paternal Care and Attention to the true Interest of your People; to acknowledge the Wisdom of your Councils, and to offer our warmest Congratulations upon the late signal and important Successes, which have attended your Majesty's Fleets and Armies.

'Tis unnecessary to particularize such Events; they must for ever remain deeply engraven in the Hearts of all your Majesty's dutiful and affectionate Subjects.

We have the most entire Confidence in your Majesty's known Goodness, and in the experienced Wisdom of your Councils, that every Success attending your Majesty's Arms in this just and necessary War, will be directed in such Manner as may most effectually promote the true Interests of these Kingdoms, and in the End procure an honourable and lasting Peace, always the Desire of your Majesty, and of every Prince who makes the Prosperity of his People the Rule of his Actions.

We further beg Leave most humbly to congratulate your Majesty upon the many great and signal Victories obtained by your truly heroic Ally the King of Prussia, over the numerous Armies of his confederated Enemies.

May your Majesty's Reign be still long, and equally glorious with its present Period: May the Throne of these Realms be ever filled with your Illustrious Descendants; and may the many Royal Virtues of your Majesty be in them transmitted to our latest Posterity.

Given under our Common Seal, at the Guildhall of the said Borough, the twenty fifth Day of September, 1758.

The following Address of the Merchants and Traders, Citizens of the City of Dublin, having been transmitted to his Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented to the King, His Majesty was pleased to receive the same very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The most humble Address of the Merchants and Traders, Citizens of the City of Dublin.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Merchants and Traders, Citizens of your faithful City of Dublin, beg Leave most humbly to approach your Throne with our sincere Congratulations upon the happy Success of your Majesty's Arms against the important Fortresses of Louisbourg, and the Islands of Cape Breton and Saint John.

The Harmony and Conduct which accompanied this Enterprize; the Prosperity of your Majesty's Army in Westphalia against the Invaders of your Electoral Dominions, and the vigorous Impressions made by your Generals on the Coast of France, under the Auspices of a Prince descended from your Majesty, and early emulous to support the Glory of the Line of Brunswick, inspire us daily with new Reverence for your Majesty's Councils, by whose Wisdom and Magnanimity, favoured by the Divine Providence, these Operations are directed, and most valuable Acquisitions are made in America, which being perpetuated to the Crown of Great Britain, will remain lasting Monuments of the Glory of your Majesty's Reign.

From the Vigour of your Majesty's Measures, and the Success with which Providence has so lately blessed the Arms of that magnanimous Prince the King of Prussia, against the unprovoked Invasions of Russia, we have Reason to hope that Peace will soon be restored to Europe, and that your Majesty's American Dominions will be so accurately ascertained, and so effectually secured, as to give the Enemy of Great Britain no Colour for future Disputes, nor any Hopes from future Aggressions.

We beg Leave to conclude with Assurances of our Loyalty and firm Attachment to your Majesty and your illustrious House, and with ardent Prayers that your Reign may be long and glorious, and distinguished as well by the Prosperity of your Arms, as by salutary Laws for the lasting Welfare and Strength of your Majesty's Dominions.

The following Address of the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth, near Dublin, having been transmitted to his Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented to the King, His Majesty was pleased to receive the same very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars, of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth, near Dublin.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth, near Dublin, beg Leave to join with the rest of your faithful and affectionate People, in our sincere Congratulations on the late happy Success, with which it has pleased the Almighty to bless your Majesty's Arms.

With a truly loyal Satisfaction, we see an effectual Provision made for the Security of your Majesty's American Colonies, the Extension of the Trade and Navigation of your Subjects, and the Superiority of your Majesty's Naval Power, by the Reduction of the important Fortresses of Louisbourg, and the brave and successful Efforts there exerted against the Maritime Force of France.

The Acquisition of one of the Enemy's principal Settlements in Africa, assures us of the same happy Consequences to the Commercial Interests of your People, and the Strength and Dignity of your Majesty's Navy.

We have the additional Pleasure to observe the vigorous Impressions, which your Majesty's Arms have made on that Coast from whence your Dominions were threatened with hostile Invasions; and your Adversaries chastised by the Demolition of their Works, and the Destruction of their Ships in their own Harbours.

Permit us also to express, on this Occasion, the unfeigned Joy we feel at the Success which has crowned the generous Efforts of your Majesty and your Allies on the Continent, in Support of the Protestant Religion, and the Liber-
