Hague, January 16.

N Friday the 12th Inflant, late at Night, died here, greatly lamented, Her Royal Highness Anne Princess Royal of England, Princels Dowager of Orange and Nassau, and Governante of the United Provinces, in the Minority of the prefent Stadtholder.

The Morning after her Royal Highnes's Deceafe, the States General and the States of Holland were extraordinarily affembled, and, upon the Notification of this Event being made to them, they proceeded to confirm the Regulations that had been made for the Minority of the Stadtholder ; and his Highness Prince Lewis of Brunfwick was invited to affift in the Affembly of Holland, where he was received and feated with all the Respect possible, and took the Oaths, as representing the Captain General of the Union. After which, his Highness communicated to the Affembly, the Act of her Royal Highnefs, by which he was appointed Guardian of her Children; and that, in Confequence of it, he had taken Care of their Perfons, and would provide for every Thing belonging to them. This Ceremony being over, Prince Lewis was likewife invited to the Affembly of A Refolution was prepared the States General. and taken by their High Mightineffes, whereby they acknowledge and agree to the Refolution of Holland, relative to Prince Lewis's representing the Captain General. Every Thing paffed with great Order and Tranquillity, and to the Satisfaction of the People.

In the Evening, the different Colleges of the Government made formal Deputations to the Prince of Orange and Princefs Caroline, who were affisted by Prince Lewis as their Guardian and Reprefentative, and who answered in their Prefence for them both.

Hague, Jan. 19. Yesterday the Comte d'Affry presented his Credentials to the States General, as Ambaffador from the Court of France to their High Mightinesses. Breflaw, Jan. 8. The Garrison of this Town confifts of about 9000 Men. The Margrave Charles and the Hereditary Prince of Heffe are here.

All the Pruffian Officers, taken before and at the Affair of Hoch Kirchen, are now actually exchanged, and there remains still a large Number of Austrian Prisoners at Berlin, and ellewhere

Every Thing it is faid is quiet on the Frontiers here and in Saxony, the Out Pofts of both Sides having come to an Agreement not to harrafs one another during the Winter, by which the Lives of many Soldiers will be faved, and the Country (pared, Yeffarday we had an Account that Major General Meyer, an excellent Partifan, had died in Saxony of the Hungarian Fever. The Army will have a great Lofs in him.

It is the general Opinion, that the Army will be quite compleat in a very short Time, His Pruffian Majefty having taken early Precautions for that Purpole.

Admiralty-Office, January 23. Extract of a Letter from Capt. Tyrrell, of His Majesty's Ship Buckingham, dated in Old Road St. Christopher's, the 9th of November 1758, to John Moore, Esq, Commander in Chief, Sc. at the Leeward Islands.

Greeable to your Orders, I failed on Thurfday Night from St. John's Road; the next Morning I got between Guadalupe and Montferat, and gave Chace to a Sail we effied in the N. W. which proved to be His Majefty's Sloop Weazle ; and, upon Enquiry, having found the had not met His Majefty's Ship Briftol, I ordered Capt. Boles to come on Board, for Directions for his further Proceedings.

Whilft his Orders were writing out, we discovered a Fleet of Nineteen Sail, bearing W. S. W. standing to the S. S. W. Upon which we immediately gave Chace with all the Sail we could poffibly crowd. About Two o'Clock we difcovered that they were convoyed by a French Man of War of 74 Guns, and two large Frigates. About Half an Hour after Two, the Weazle got fo close, as to receive a whole Broadfide from the 74 Gun Ship, which did her little or no Damage. I then made the Signal to call the Weazle off, and gave her Lieutenant Orders not to go near the 74 Gun Ship, or the Frigates, as the leaft of the latter was vaftly fuperior to him in Force, by following which Advice, he could not come to fire a Shot during the whole Action, neither indeed could it be of any Service.

"Whilft I made all the Sail I could, they were jogging on under their Forefails and Topfails; and when we came up within Half Gun Shot, they made a Running Fight, in firing firing their Stern Chace, and the Frigates fometimes raking fore and aft, annoyed me pretty much; but retarded their Way fo much, that I got up with my Bowsprit almost over the Florissant's Stern. Finding I could not bring Floriffant's Stern. Finding I could not bring him to a general Action, I gave the Buckingham a Yaw under his Lee, and gave him a noble Dofe of Great Guns and Small Arms, at about the Diftance of Half Musket Shot, which he foon after returned, and damaged my Rigging, Masts, and Sails, pretty much. The largest Frigate being very troublesome, I gave him a Few of my lower Deck Pills, and sate ' him a Scouting like a lufty Fellow, and he never returned to the Action again. The . Floriflant likewise bore away, by which ٤. Means he got under my Lee, and exchanged three or four Broadfides, (he endeavouring to ¢ keep at a Diffance from me) which killed 6 and wounded fome of my Men; and I prefume we did them as much Damage, as our Men were very cool, took good Aim, were under very good Difcipline, and fought with 6 a true English Spirit.

⁴ I called to my People to fland by and do ⁵ their Duty, which they promifed with the ⁶ greateft Chearfulnefs. I juft ran down, and ⁶ got the Blood flopped, and ran upon Deck a-⁶ gain; but finding the flraining made my ⁶ Wounds bleed afrefh, I fent for my Firft ⁶ Lieutenant, and told him to take the Com-⁶ mand of the Deck for a while. He anfwered ⁶ me, that he would, and run along fide the ⁶ Floriffant, Yard - arm and Yard - arm, and ⁶ fight to the laft Gafp; upon which I made a ⁶ Speech to the Men, exhorting them to do their ⁶ utmoft, which they chearfully promifed, and ⁶ gave three Cheers.

I went down a fecond Time much more eafy ⁶ than before. Poor Mr. Marshal was as good as his Word, he got board and board with the Floriffant, and received a Broadfide from her, which killed him as he was encouraging the Men ; and thus he died, an Honor to his Country, and the Service. The fecond Lieutenant then came upon Deck, and fought the Ship bravely, Yard-arm and Yard-arm. We filenced the Floriffant for fome Time, upon which she hauled down her Colours, and after that, fired about Eleven of her lower Tier, and gave us a Volley of fmall Arms, which our People returned with great Fury, giving her three Broadfides, fhe not returning even a fingle Gun. Captain Troy, at the fame Time, at the Head of his Marines, performed the Service of a brave and gallant Officer, cleared her Poop and Quarter Deck, and drove her I Men like Sheep down upon their Main Deck. OurTop-men were not idle, they plying their ¢ Hand-Grenades and Swivels to excellent Purpofe. It is impoffible to defcribe the Uproar and Confusion the French were in.

• It being now dark, and we having every • Bit of Rigging in the Ship that away, the feeing our Condition, took the Oppo tunity, fat her Forefail and Topgallant Sails, and ran away. We endeavoured to purfue her with what Rags of Sails we had left, but to no Purpofe. Thus we loft one of the fineft Two-deck Ships my Eyes ever beheld.

⁶ I cannot give too great Encomiums on the People and Officers Behaviour, and I hope you will firenuoufly recommend my Officers to the Lords of the Admiralty, as they richly deferve their Favor. Notwithftanding the great Fatigue the Ship's Company had had all Day, they chearfully flayed up all Night, knotting and fplicing the Rigging, and bending the Sails.

⁶ Captain Boles being on board the Buckingham, I gave him Directions to go down and fuperintend the lower Deck, which he performed with great Alacrity.

• As we have been to greatly damaged in our • Mafts, Yards, Sails and Rigging, particularly • our Matts, I thought proper to fend the Car-• penter of the Buckingham, as he can better • give you an Acccunt by Word of Mouth, of • what Fifhes we shall want, than many Words • of my writing.

⁶ Before I conclude, I cannot help reprefenting to you the inhuman, ungenerous and barbarous Behaviour of the French during the Action. No rafcally Piccaroon, or Pirate, could have fired worfe Stuff into us than they did, fuch as fquare Bits of Iron, old rufty Nails, and, in fhort, every Thing that could tend to the Deftruction of Men; a Specimen of which, pleafe God, I fhall produce to you upon my Arrival.

'I fend you inclosed, a List of the Slain and 'Wounded.'

An Account of the Number of Officers, Seamen, and Marines, killed and wounded on Board His Majefty's Ship Buckingham, Capt. Richard Tyrrell, Commander, in an Engagement with three French Men of War, viz. the Fleriflant of 74 Guns, and two Frigates, one of 38, and the other of 28 Guns, the 3d of November 1758.
