

your Majesty's Cause, we ascribe these glorious and happy Events to the Wisdom and Vigour with which the Publick Measures have been conducted, and to the Virtue and Unanimity of your brave Commanders, by which at last the Pride of our Enemies is humbled, their Perfidy chastised, their Ambition checked, their hostile Plans disappointed, and their Trade destroyed; while the British Empire is enlarged, its Coasts protected, its Commerce extended; and by the Vigilance and unwearied Endeavours of your Majesty, and those worthy Patriots who have the Administration of your Affairs, we continue to enjoy the Fruits of Peace and Industry, while the Nations around us are groaning under all the Calamities of a cruel and destructive War.

At the same Time that we express the high Sense we have of these invaluable Blessings, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that it shall be our constant Study to inspire the Youth under our Care with just Impressions of those valuable and distinguished Privileges, which this Nation enjoys under the Government of so great a Prince, and of so wise an Administration.

We pray, that your Majesty may be long preferred; that wise and faithful Counsellors may be still placed about your Throne, and that your Name may be transmitted to latest Ages, as the Defender of the Protestant Religion, as the Guardian of the Liberties of Europe, and as the indulgent Father of a Free and a Happy People.

Signed at the King's College of Aberdeen, the 21st Day of December, 1759, in the Name of the University, by Jo. Chalmers, Principal.

The Vigour of your Majesty's Councils, the Conduct, Activity and Resolution of your Commanders, the Bravery of your Officers, the Alertness and Discipline of your Troops, together with the Unanimity of your Subjects, must make your Majesty's Enemies repent their perfidious Baseness and horrid Cruelties; and convince them, that the King of Great Britain is not to be provoked with Impunity. And we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we are ready to sacrifice every Thing that is dear to us in Defence of your Person and Government, and exult in declaring, that the Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and gracious Reign, shall have every Return of Gratitude, that a loyal People can shew to the best of Sovereigns.

We cannot omit, in a more particular Manner, to compliment and congratulate your Majesty upon the glorious Successes of your Majesty's Navy, and the late almost entire Destruction of the French Fleet.

Whilst all Hearts are united in sincere Affection to your Majesty, none can with more Zeal and Devotion than we do, pray for the Continuance of your Majesty's auspicious Reign, which we are confident will still bring Encrease of Glory and Happiness to this Nation, and terminate this just and necessary War in a wise and honourable Peace.
